

Employment Rejection Email

Dear Mr./Ms.,

I have received your letter dated on December 15th, informing me that I am not selected for the post of an assistant manager with your organization. I would like to thank you for the opportunity of getting a chance to be interviewed by you. It was really disappointing to know I was not selected for the said post. However, I am delighted to have met you and learn more about your reputed company.

I am still interested in future opportunities with your employer. Please keep me in mind when you have another opening with any of your Eastern US branches in the near future. Thank you again for your consideration.

Sincerely,

John Doe