COVER LETTER BASICS

WHAT IS A COVER LETTER?

A personalized, 1-page, 3-4 paragraph letter that should accompany each resume

Its purpose:

- To clarify for the employer your reason for contacting them.
- To make the connection between your skills, interests, academic background, and the needs of the employer (as stated in the advertisement and/or determined through your research on the company).
- To serve as your “sales pitch” to the employer, clarifying through specific examples what you can contribute to the company/organization.

PREPARING TO WRITE A COVER LETTER

1. Research the employer. See how your skills and background meet the organization's needs, and how well your values match those promoted by the organization. (Visit their website, perform a Google search, and/or talk with professors or other professionals in the field who may have information about the organization).
2. Analyze the job description. Identify the job responsibilities and qualifications required. If there is no description, or if it is vague or unclear, research similar jobs to infer what skills and background would be required.
3. Review and analyze your background. Think about your background in relation to the job's responsibilities and qualifications. Consider courses taken, academic projects, past work and internship experiences, summer jobs, volunteer experiences, and extracurricular involvement.

WHAT TO INCLUDE IN YOUR COVER LETTER

1. State why you are writing, indicate what position you are interested in, the source and date of the advertisement or what you are interested in doing in the company/organization if you have sent your resume to inquire about possible job openings. If you have been referred by someone, name the person at the beginning of the letter.
2. Demonstrate that you have some knowledge about the employer which sparks your interest in that employer and leads you to believe that this would be a good fit.
3. Focus specifically on your RELEVANT skills, work and internship experiences, interests, courses, projects, accomplishments, and personal qualities that match with the position. Do not merely repeat what is on your resume. Select ONLY those details that will be of greatest interest to the employer. If responding to an advertisement, incorporate words from the advertisement that refer to skills and qualifications that the employer is seeking.

COVER LETTER TIPS

- Every resume you send, fax, or e-mail needs its own personalized cover letter.
- Each letter should be unique and addressed to a specific individual if at all possible. “To Whom It May Concern” is an acceptable alternative if the name is not available.
- If you are applying to positions that may seem unexpected based on your major, for example you are a biology major applying to finance positions, be very clear about why you are interested in that particular field.
- If you are applying to summer jobs or internships and do not yet have experience that is directly related to the position, focus on transferable skills.
- Focus on the positive! Do not refer to areas where you are lacking in experience or qualifications.
- All letters should be single spaced, flush left, with each paragraph followed by a blank line.
- Proofread your letter carefully to make sure that there are no typos or grammatical errors (DO NOT RELY ON SPELLCHECK!).
- Ask someone else to read your letter. When you are proofreading your own writing it is easy to overlook mistakes.
- Keep a copy of all correspondence.

SENDING YOUR COVER LETTER VIA EMAIL

Recruiters' preferences vary on what format they prefer to receive your cover letter. Some prefer a PDF or Word attachment and others prefer the letter to be the body of the email. However, most seem to agree that when receiving a cover letter and resume as an attachment, they prefer it as one document.

- Maintain a professional/formal tone as if you were mailing the letter.
- Include the cover letter in the body of the email and attach the resume.
- Include the title of the position you are applying for in the subject line.

CAUTION: If you are struggling with what to include in your letter, perhaps you need to do more work clarifying your career direction or articulating your value to employers! Consider arranging a counseling appointment at the BU Center for Career Development: 617-353-3590.

Dear Mr. or Ms. last name: (use colon)

OPENING PARAGRAPH: State the reason for writing. Name the specific position, or type of work for which you are applying. If there is a job number or reference code, be sure to include this as well. Also mention the resource used in finding out about the opening or organization (classified ad, job listing, placement center, friend, faculty, etc.). Give a preview of your relevant skills and/or why you chose to apply to this organization/job. (This can also go in the 2nd paragraph)

BODY OF LETTER: Explain why you are interested in working for this particular employer and/or specify your reasons for desiring this type of work. Ms. Jane Smith
B's Book Review
331 Anywhere Street, Suite 17
Cambridge, MA 02139

Dear Ms. Smith:

I am writing to apply for the editorial internship position that was posted on The Atlantic Online. I am always looking for new books to read and seek out reviews. I have read many of the reviews on your web site and would be eager to have the opportunity to work for B's Book Review. My hope is to complete this internship during the spring semester from January to May 2011.

As you can see from my enclosed resume, I am a member of the Creative Writing Club, a student-run group. For this group, I select and edit written submissions for our annual magazine as well as design promotional materials. In addition, I have worked for the past two years as a sales associate for The Gap. From this position, I have learned the importance of customer service skills and the value of working as part of a team.

The skills that I will bring to this position include excellent written and verbal communication skills. Because of my proof-reading and editing abilities, I am frequently asked by classmates to edit papers. These skills, combined with my coursework and past work experience, make me a good fit for this opportunity.

Thank you for your consideration. I hope to meet with you soon to learn more about the internship and to further discuss my qualifications. I will contact you to learn if I am selected for an interview during the week of September 23rd. In the meantime, I can be reached at 555-333-1234.

Sincerely,

Lilly Reader

Boston, MA 02114

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to apply for the administrative assistant/conference planner position that was posted at Boston University. This position is the perfect fit for my event planning experience and interest in law.

As you can see from my enclosed resume, I was an active member of the Student Government Association for three years. During my senior year, I chaired the Senior Soiree committee. In this role, I planned and led weekly committee meetings, selected a hotel to hold the event, negotiated contractual arrangements with vendors, printed invitations, and sold tickets. Not only did the event stay within its budget, we had a record number of students attend.

At Gram's Restaurant, I was recognized for my friendly attitude and excellent customer service; two important qualities to uphold when you are planning events, meetings, and providing support to a busy staff. In addition, I was quickly given new responsibilities and trained five employees on restaurant procedures and protocol.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to having the opportunity to learn more about the Massachusetts District Attorney's Association and to further describe my qualifications. I will contact you the week of September 13th to see if an interview can be arranged. In the meantime, I can be contacted at 555-795-0000.

Sincerely,

Jane Jones

Mr. John Smith
Quest Expeditions
PO Box 0000
Friday Harbor, WA 98250

Dear Mr. Smith:

During the summer of 2000, I was privileged to participate in one of your five-day sea kayaking trips. After this encounter, I decided to major in marine biology and ecology. This past May, I graduated from Boston University with my Bachelor's degree. Please accept the enclosed resume for the field guide position posted on your website.

From my coursework, community service, and traveling, I have extensive experience in environmental and conservation work. In addition, I have taken numerous courses on marine ecosystems, namely of the pacific coastal regions of southwestern Canada and of the tropical Ecuadorian coast. As these Pacific systems contain very similar flora and fauna as well as a similar geographical makeup to the San Juan region, I am already fully equipped to share an extensive library of knowledge with clients. I am a natural leader and remain calm and collected in stressful situations. These are essential qualities for a field guide because, in addition to a leader's knowledge, he or she must be trustworthy, confident, and enthusiastic so clients will feel completely at ease.

Thank you in advance for taking the time to review my resume. I can be reached at 555-333-0000. I hope to hear from you about an interview soon.

Sincerely,

Leslie Lab

New York, NY 10037

Dear Ms. Service:

Please consider this letter as an application for the position of student advocate which was listed on Idealist.org. The mission of the Children's Zone is similar to that of previous organizations where I have worked. This position appears tailor-made for my education and career interests of working with teens.

As my resume shows, during my internship at the End House, I co-led the after-school program. In this position, I tutored students individually and in school groups during homework time as well as participating in recreational activities with the children. My psychology major has helped me to better understand human behavior, social groups, and institutions. What I learned in and out of the classroom will assist me in working with teens to serve as a guide for your after-school program for high school students. In addition, my volunteer experiences have shown my ability to adapt to different environments and interact with different types of people, as well as my commitment and hard work.

Thank you for your time. I hope you will consider me for this position. I look forward to meeting you and discussing my qualifications in more detail. I can be reached at 555-333-0000.

Sincerely,

Jane Roe

Ms. Susan Smith, Human Resource Director
Great Ads
6262 Anywhere Street
Somewhere, MA 07665

June 2, 2010

Dear Ms. Smith:

It is with much enthusiasm that I read in the May 25th Boston Globe that Great Ads is expanding its business into the local restaurant industry. I feel confident that my experience in writing and restaurant service are a unique match for the junior copywriter position, #64537, as advertised on BU CareerLink.

As an English major at Boston University and editor for the student newspaper, I developed my creativity and writing skills in deadline-oriented environments and achieved strong working knowledge of AP style. Volunteering with the Heads-Up literacy program helped me learn to make words exciting.

Perhaps most important, as a server at several area restaurants I gained a valuable familiarity with the environments, patrons, and menus of the very businesses you seek to assist. I would appreciate the opportunity not only to write fresh ads for these restaurants, but perhaps to generate new business using my network of contacts at these locations.

I would appreciate an opportunity to meet with you to discuss the position. I will call you the week of June 11th to follow up. In the meantime, I can be reached at 555-333-1234.

Sincerely,

Wayne Writer

Mr. John Smith
Human Resources
Bank of USA
100 Anywhere St.
Boston, MA 02210

Dear Mr. Smith:

I will be graduating from Boston University this May with a BA in economics, and I am interested in exploring career opportunities with Bank of USA in the Fitchburg area. I am aware that Bank of USA is a leading bank in Massachusetts and, therefore, is the kind of organization within which I would like to begin building my career.

You will note from my enclosed resume that I have a strong background in banking, reinforced by several related courses at BU. I am currently interning at a credit union where I interact with customers on a daily basis and process a variety of loans including home equity and mortgage loans. I am seeking a position leading towards a managerial career in the lending/credit industry.

My strong math skills and attention to detail combined with my commitment to customer service will allow me to be successful in this field. I am confident that I would be an asset to Bank of USA and I hope that you will seriously consider me as a candidate for an entry level opportunity. Since my home is in Southborough and I attend school in Boston, I am readily available for an interview at either location. I will contact your office within the next two weeks to determine your level of interest in arranging a meeting. In the meantime, I can be reached at 555-333-1234. Thank you for your consideration.

Ms. Emily Gotepils
Director of Recruiting
East Arbor
721 W. Anywhere St.
New York, NY 10021

Dear Ms. Gotepils:

Jill Browne suggested I contact you regarding the marketing position available at East Arbor. I am enthused about the prospect of pursuing my marketing interests at your company due to its reputation as a well respected, innovative, and growing company in liability policies.

My diverse and rigorous academic, professional, and leadership experiences would make me a valuable asset to Eastern Arbor. Currently, in a part-time professional position as a student admissions associate at Boston University, I assist in promoting the university to prospective students and their parents. I participate in interviewing and evaluating students as well as leading group information sessions. Since I work with people every day in a business setting, I have developed strong interpersonal and communication skills.

My leadership experience, particularly with the Boston University Women's Center, is another example of my strong sense of responsibility and motivation. As an active member concerned with the rights of women, I have brought fresh new ideas into the agenda, such as bringing student leaders together to discuss how to create a more active community at Boston University. As a result of this idea, our organization, along with the other student leaders, has begun planning a leadership forum for next semester.

I have enclosed my resume for your consideration and will contact you the week of August 6th to follow up. Thank you for your time and consideration and I look forward to the opportunity to talk with you further about my enthusiasm and qualifications for the marketing position. In the meantime, I can be reached at 555-333-1234.
