

WEDDED BLISS

Bride and Groom seal the deal

WITH ONLY minutes to the wedding vow exchange many friends and family in the church were expecting last minute nerves to take hold and for the bride not to appear or for the groom to faint...again!

Not today. The loving pair could be seen gazing into each others eyes (Paul's were slightly bloodshot from the party the night before).

It has been almost six years since the pair met and their relationship has gone from strength to strength.

Paul and Amy tell all in our exclusive behind the scenes interview. What did Amy say to Paul on their wedding night?

HERO OF THE MOMENT

Best man brought them together

IT WAS a cold night in June when John Smith introduced Paul and Amy. Since then their love has blossomed and they have been inseparable. "A HERO?" John does tend to embellish the story a little with his usual sense of humour. But, no doubt, it was his heroic introduction of the two lovebirds that sealed today's wedding bliss.

Castle Setting

A right royal send-off

THE BRIDE'S father, Mr James Jones, was not expecting to have to shell out for such an extravagant wedding. "She would opt for a bloody castle!" said Mr Jones, affectionately! WELL KNOWN as being the village Scrooge, Mr Jones had already spent his daughter's wedding fund on a new set of golf clubs and a rather funky 26ft Catamaran. After being hit for 'fore' following the wedding announcement last year Mr Jones took a few days to come around. LAUGHING - he is now. He just came up trumps on the Lotto...a whole $10.
