Job Description for Part-time Photographer

Bare Conductive is looking for a part-time or freelance photographer to help with documentation and creation of imagery for the company. This role will require working with the marketing team to create content for website tutorials, social media platforms, marketing campaigns and ads. You may also occasionally be asked to attend events or workshops to document.

This role is a long-term one, and will encompass several ongoing projects liked to tutorials and marketing campaigns. We work in a small team so you must be comfortable and excited about working closely with others and occasionally having to do the odd task. Pay will be determined based on applicants experience and expertise.

Please supply examples of previous work and relevant experience. A successful candidate will impress us with their documentation skills through a presentation of their previous work.

Responsibilities include:

- Shooting images based on brief from Creative Director
- Assisting team members with tutorial/product shots
- Attending and documenting Events and Workshops
- Post production: cleaning up and editing images

Skills Required:

- Strong working knowledge of Digital SLR cameras.
- Experience with Canon cameras is a plus
- Strong working knowledge of Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator and InDesign
- Rigorous attention to detail
- Ability to meet deadlines

Please submit Cover Letter, C.V. and Portfolio (if applicable) to jobs@bareconductive.com with the subject line "Part-time Photography Role."
