

Job Description

Role: Technical Consultant- Salesforce.com

The role

Are you a Salesforce.com rock star?

Do you possess great development skills?

Do you have a genuine passion about Cloud Computing?

Then you should apply for this job!

makepositive offers an awesome opportunity for Salesforce Technical Consultants to acquire and develop new skills in a dynamic London based consultancy. The role will give you the chance to work on challenging and exciting projects with the latest technology.

Responsibilities

- Analysis and Technical Design
- Development and Testing
- Configuration of Cloud-Based solutions
- Customer Support, liaising directly with the clients.
- Team working with Business Analysts and Technical Architects
- As a committed platinum certified Salesforce.com partner, we actively encourage regular training to suit the needs to our consultants and business.

Skills required

The ideal candidate will have a solid academic foundation to degree level or higher. Additionally, candidates MUST HAVE evidence of the following:

Essential:

- Min 1 year development experience with Salesforce.com (Apex and Visualforce)
- Good understanding of Agile principles
- Genuine passion for Cloud Computing
- Proactive thinking with a 'can do' attitude
- Excellent communication skills, both written and verbal.
- Eligibility to work in the UK (EU citizenship or valid visa)

Preferred

- Experience with Java/J2EE, Ruby on Rails, Heroku or other Cloud technologies.
- Consulting background

makepositive is a specialist cloud technology firm. We focus on Salesforce. com, and are a both a leading Salesforce. com consulting partner and Independent Software Vendor. We are a Platinum Salesforce Partner.

Guided by our core values (Service Excellence, Drive, Commitment, Community, Integrity and Passion) makepositive combines our heritage as a PWC spin-out with cutting edge technical knowhow. This management consulting background twinned with our passion for innovation sets us apart from our competitors and allows us to solve complex IT problems and build solid leading edge products that meet your business needs from both a commercial and technical perspective. We also work with customers to help them determine their long term cloud strategy.

Our impressive customer base includes 10 of the largest companies in the UK. We have a track record of delivering large enterprise-wide integration projects, as well as developing cutting-edge products, predominantly around social enterprise, customer relationship management and collaboration.

We have three offices: the HQ in London, an office in Manchester to serve clients in the Midlands and the North, and an office in Gurgaon, India, from which we offer product development services, managed support services, testing and technical solutions.

TO APPLY PLEASE SEND YOUR CV TO:

email: cristina.bens@makepositive.com

129-131 Great Guildford BusinessSquare
30 Great Guildford Street
London SE1 0HS

makepositive.com