San Diego, California 92101

Dear Bruce:

There is no one more eager than I for the success of our YMCA capital expansion program. I feel that at long last, we are ready to take this bold step. I want you to know of my own personal enthusiasm for the project.

I recognize how important it is for each board member to express his own commitment to the program. I want you to know that I shall plan to help and work in any capacity where it is felt my talents and background can be used to the greatest advantage possible. I want you to know, also, about my financial commitment to the program.

It is my intention to donate over a five-year period to the Covenant with Tomorrow program the sum of $250,000. To the best of my ability, I shall try to meet this planned gift. It assumes the proper and continued growth of my business, my own good health, and the health of my family. I do not consider this gift legally binding on me or my estate, but I can assure you that it is my every intention to pay the entire amount of this proposed gift.

It may appear on the surface that I have severely limited the deliverance of my gift. The contrary is true. It is only because of the restrictions I have added that I am able to make my intended gift as large as I have. I assure you, Bruce, that I have stretched as far as I possibly can in order to demonstrate to you my own personal dedication to the project and my regard for you and your leadership.

Sincerely,

Patterson N. Hyndman

Our Second Century
Forging the Future
The Asheville School

Letter of Intent

As a member of the Board of Trustees, I recognize that the School must raise $22,025,000 to meet the School's needs as it approaches its second century. Of that amount, $13 million must be raised over the next three to five years for retirement of debt, faculty housing, deferred maintenance, construction of the Skinner Library, new technology, endowment, and the outdoor center.

I further recognize that, as in any capital campaign, Board leadership is essential for success. Knowing, therefore, that sacrificial giving is required of trustees, I am ready to do my part to meet that responsibility.

I hope and plan, therefore, on giving a total of $_____, payable by _____ according to the schedule below.

It is my understanding that this document merely sets forth my wish and intention to make this gift but does not represent a legal obligation. It is also my understanding that, should circumstances warrant, I may reduce or cancel this commitment. In the event of my death prior to fulfillment, my estate will not have a legal obligation to complete this debt, although it may wish to. I further understand that I may increase this gift if I so choose.
