

~ Invitation to a lunch meeting ~

"The value of Integrative Oncology in medicine:
The German model - a best practice example?"

Dear colleagues,

the value of integrative approaches in medicine, i.e. the combination of conventional and alternative medicine in an integrative manner is still not very well known in Europe. Anthroposophic medicine has more than 90 years of experience in the field of integration of these methods into the conventional treatment of cancer. To get a very special insight of a best practice example of the integrative approach in oncology, I would like to invite you to a lunch meeting on

10th May 2011 from 12h30 till 14h30
European Parliament Strasbourg, Salon LOW
(lunch will be provided)

The guest speakers (see programme attached) will explain the role of anthroposophic medicine within the German health system. We will discuss if this example could serve as a model for integrative medicine approaches at EU level, especially in the field of clinical oncology.

Please use the attached registration form in order to confirm your attendance. Looking forward to seeing you on 10th May!

Yours sincerely,

Programme

Introduction:

Dr. Thomas Ulmer MEP

Statement:

Dr. Peter Zimmermann

He is working as a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology practicing in Finland. In addition, he is the President of the International Federation of Anthroposophic Medical Associations IVAA.

Statement:

Dr. Thomas Breitkreuz

He is a specialist in Internal Medicine with special expertise in oncology. Besides that, he is one of the directors of the Paracelsus Hospital in Unterlengenhardt (DE) and Chairman of the Commission C for Anthroposophic Medicinal Products (AMPs) at the Federal Institute for Drugs and Medical Devices, in Bonn (DE).

Questions and Answers

Conclusions:

Dr. Thomas Ulmer MEP