

Careers at EPA

Every day is Earth Day at EPA – join us in protecting the environment! Our diverse workforce shares a common passion to promote a cleaner, healthier environment. We consistently rank as one of the top federal agencies in which to work, with great benefits and work flexibilities. Find information on all EPA career opportunities at: www.epa.gov/careers/

Federal Careers

Our job vacancy announcements are posted on USAJobs.gov, the official job site of the United States federal government. For information on open positions and how to apply, visit: www.usajobs.gov/

Student, Internship, and Fellowship Positions

EPA offers numerous opportunities for students from high school to post doctoral levels. Students gain vital career experience while contributing to the mission of protecting human health and safeguarding the environment. Opportunities are available at our Washington D.C. headquarters, our ten regional offices, and our labs and research centers throughout the Nation.

- Information on paid and unpaid (volunteer) internships for high school or college students: www.epa.gov/education/
- Information on undergraduate, graduate, and post-doctoral fellowships: www.epa.gov/education/fellowships/
- EPA's Office of Research and Development also offers Student Services Contractor positions, a unique and exciting career opportunity for students and recent grads seeking scientific or administrative experience. More information about Student Services Contractors:

www.epa.gov/education/contractors/

Meet Our Researchers

Check out EPA Researchers @ Work to meet some of our hard-working scientists, see how they got started in their careers, and learn about the important work they do: www.epa.gov/sciencematters/researchers-work