About t+j Designs

Tiffany and Jen grew up inspired by their glamorous mother and have always shared a love of fashion. Guided by their passion, Jen pursued a career in merchandising and successfully worked as a merchandise manager for 8 years for several big box retail brands; Tiffany spent most of her career in the corporate world and in a need for a creative outlet, started her blog, I am Style-ish. Jen followed in Tiffany's footsteps and started her blog at Red Soles and Red Wine to share styling outfits and the latest trends. With their creativity, love of fashion and dream of owning their own business, they came together to build t+j Designs in 2011.

Tiffany and Jen love fashion and are inspired by high end designers in creating their pieces. They launched their brand in 2011 with statement and delicate jewelry. In the last year they have expanded into graphic tees, skirts and dresses. Overall, the goal of t+j Designs is to provide affordable glamour from head to toe. Who doesn't love luxe for less?
