

Calendar Sizes

Calendars can come in all shapes and sizes as their format and layout vary. Continue reading to find out which calendar sizes fit your company's use the best.

Calendar Sizes Standard

Letter

The 8.5" x 11" is a well-known calendar size for portrait orientation. The open format of a saddle-stitched calendar is distinctive. Consider a magazine that you would open, turn over, and hang with a drilling hole. The calendar unfolds to 8.5" x 22" and is ideal for visuals that are oriented vertically, such as tall buildings.

Letter Wide

11" x 8.5" is the equivalent of a landscape orientation for a standard calendar size. It opens to 11" x 17", which is the most popular calendar size. The format complements many types of photos of sceneries.

Statement

If you are searching for a more compact wall calendar, 5.5" x 8.5" is the recommendable size. For saddle-stitched calendars, the open format is 5.5" x 17". These small calendars are somewhat less expensive and may be purchased in stores just as frequently as the larger ones.

Tabloid

11" x 17" is the most frequent size for wire-o calendars. Since the closed and open formats for wire-o calendars are the same, this corresponds to the 8.5" x 11" saddle-stitched size when unfolded.

Lengthy Stripe

5.83" x 16.54" allows plenty of areas to note important occasions such as birthdays and anniversaries. The European standard is modified into a common long-sized stripe format.

Square Calendars

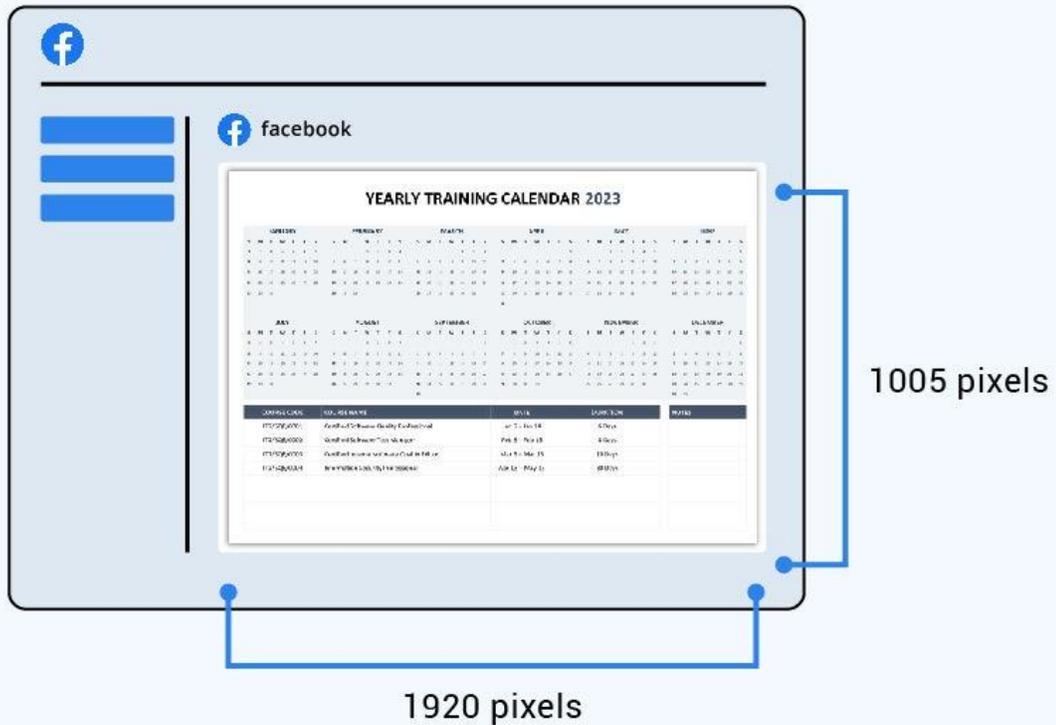

If you want a calendar that has equal sides for length and height, then you can opt for this size. The most common square calendar sizes are 5.5" x 5.5", 8.5" x 8.5", and 11" x 11".
