

Pride Month

Nowadays, the LGBTQ community is genuinely accepted in the general society. Gone are the days when gays and lesbians are shunned by the public eye. And rightfully so, people around the world happily celebrate the LGBTQ community during Pride Month.

Pride Month Definition & Meaning

Pride Month is the month of each year when people around the globe celebrate and commemorate the achievements of LGBT people.

Pride Month is a month-long celebration where people worldwide express support for the LGBTQ community by spreading awareness and organizing activities that remind the world of their importance to society.

When Is Pride Month?

Since 1999 during President Bill Clinton's time, Pride Month is celebrated every year for the entire month of June. It's not to be confused with LGBT History Month which is a separate month-long holiday celebrated every October.

Pride Month Purpose & Importance

The celebration of Pride Month has come a long way. Over the years, it became not just a yearly holiday but a movement that holds a significant purpose in ingratiating LGBTQ individuals into mainstream society. With that said, let's discuss the importance of Pride Month.

Honoring the 1969 Stonewall Riots

The 1969 Stonewall Riots, also known as Stonewall Uprising, is a momentous event in LGBT history. It happened in New York in June 1969 when supporters of lesbians and gays rallied to fight the harassment done by police authorities against LGBT Americans. It's one of the first accounts of a major movement that strives to accept the LGBTQ community into society.

Commemorating the Victims of Hate Crimes Against the LGBT

Around the 1990s, many LGBT individuals fell victim to hate crimes merely because of their gender and identity. A lot of them sadly died or experienced severe trauma. During Pride Month, memorials are held to honor them and acknowledge the impact they have on the LGBTQ community.

Celebrating the Achievements of LGBT Individuals

Over the past two decades and today, millions of LGBT individuals have achieved great feats in society. Some of them earned notable professions, joined inclusive beauty pageants, contributed to charitable missions, and generally made waves to build a better future for society. On Pride Month, the global community takes a stand to celebrate their feats through festivals, parades, and social media posts.

What's In Pride Month?

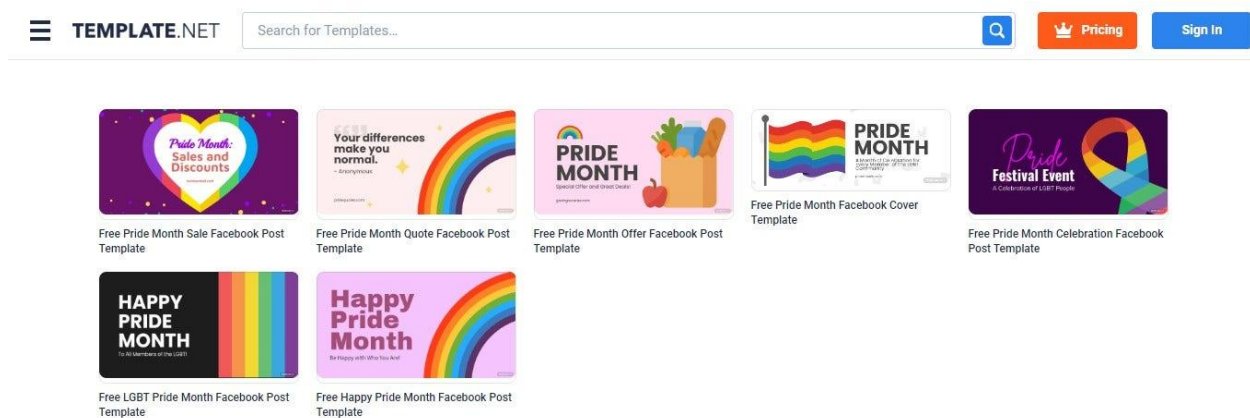

There are many things to see and experience during Pride Month. For one, you'll see a lot of social media posts and profiles flaunting the colors of the LGBTQ flag, especially official company brand logos. There'll also be parades and rallies that fight anti-gay movements. You can participate in them if you want as some might take place in your city or on local streets.

How to Create a Pride Month Social Media Post

You don't have to take part in outdoor activities to celebrate Pride Month. You can express your support to the LGBTQ community simply by posting Pride Month social media posts. So with that in mind, let us show you the basics of creating social media posts for Pride Month.

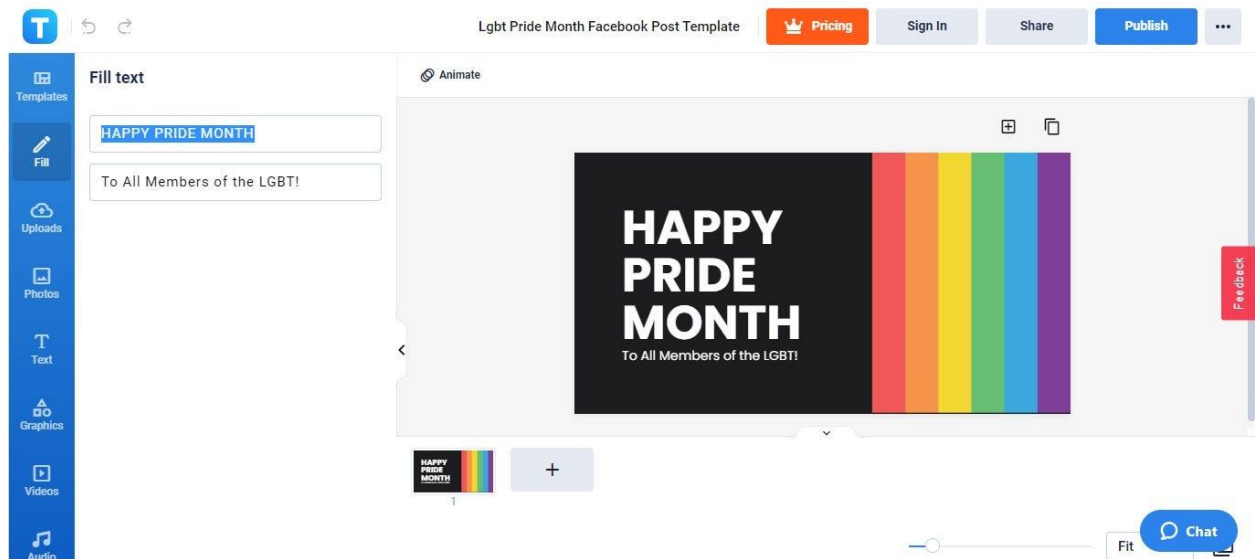

Facebook

1. Select a Pride Month Facebook Post Template.

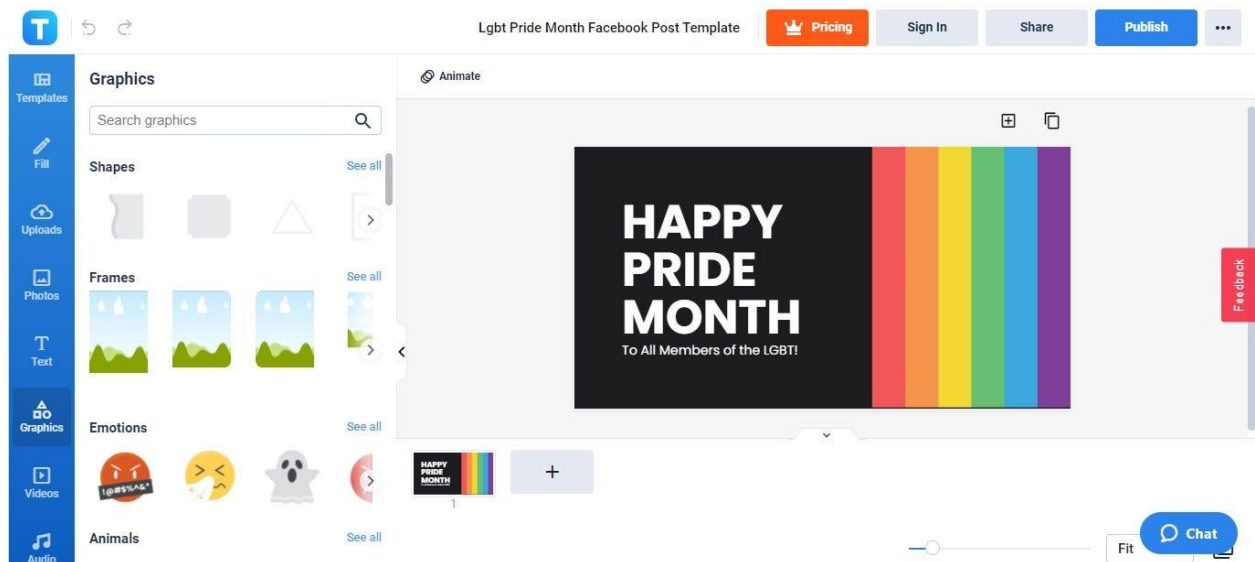

We have several Pride Month Facebook post templates with beautiful designs that fit the occasion. Simply click on your selected template.

2. Input your custom Pride Month message on Fill.

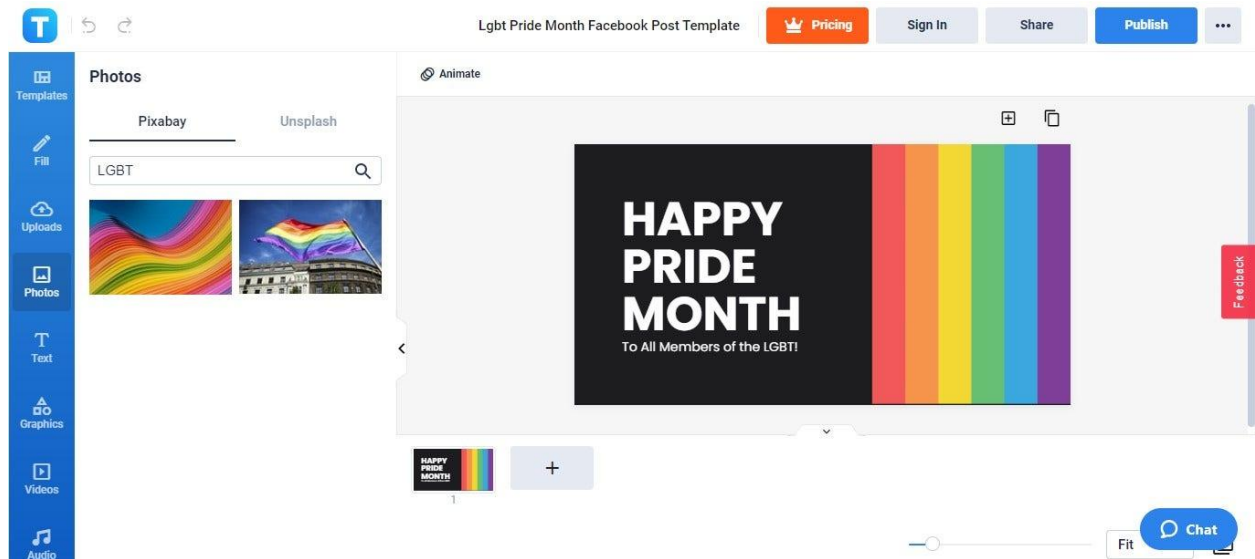

On the Editor page, go to Fill, and under Fill Text, you can input your custom Pride Month message or greeting. Keep it short and simple.

3. Add more graphic designs if you want.

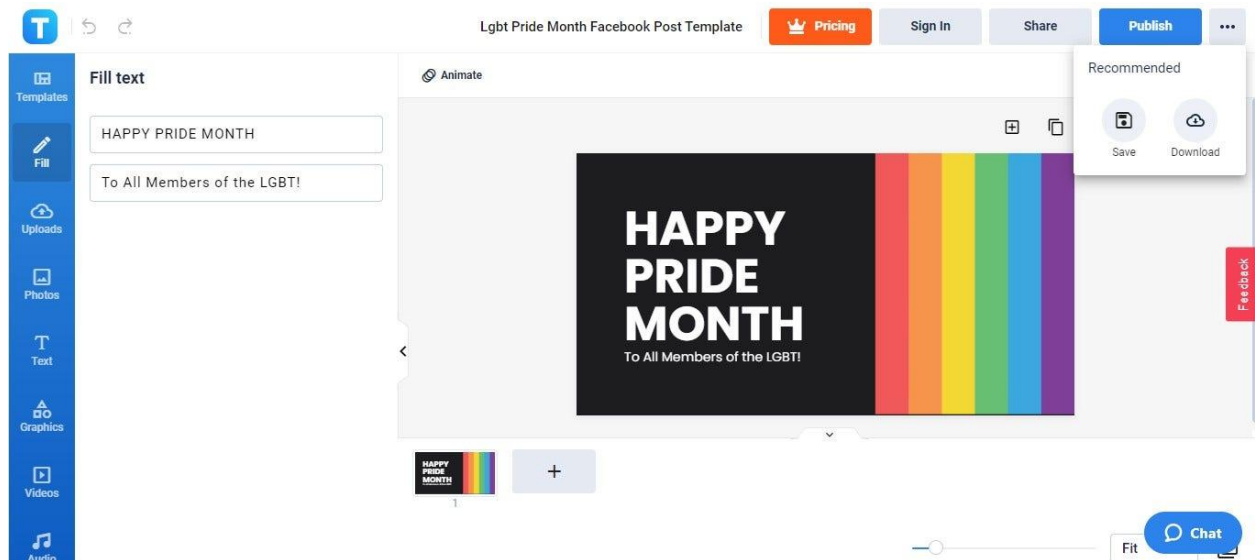

Go to the Graphics panel if you want to add more graphic designs to the template. You can add more shapes, clipart, and other objects. Make sure that they're relevant to the post's overall aesthetic feel.

4. Insert LGBT photos.

Head to the Photos panel and search for LGBT photos under Pixabay or Unsplash. You can insert one if you want simply by clicking on your chosen photo.

5. Download the template.

Once you're done, download the template. Click the three-dotted icon on the upper right corner and select Download. After downloading, you can proceed to upload the template to your Facebook timeline.

2. Add Pride Month photos if you want.

On the right side of the Editor page, you'll find the Photos panel. Click on it to open it, and once you're in, you can search for Pride Month photos either on Unsplash or Pixabay.

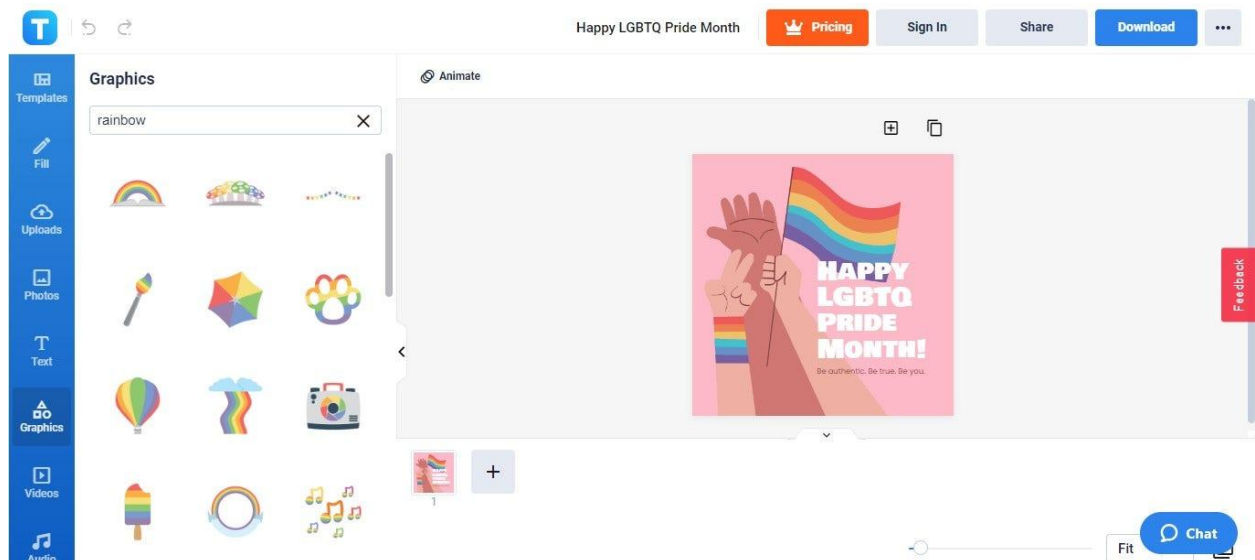

Browse through the photos that'll appear and click the one that you fancy in order to insert it into the template.

3. Write your unique Pride Month greeting.

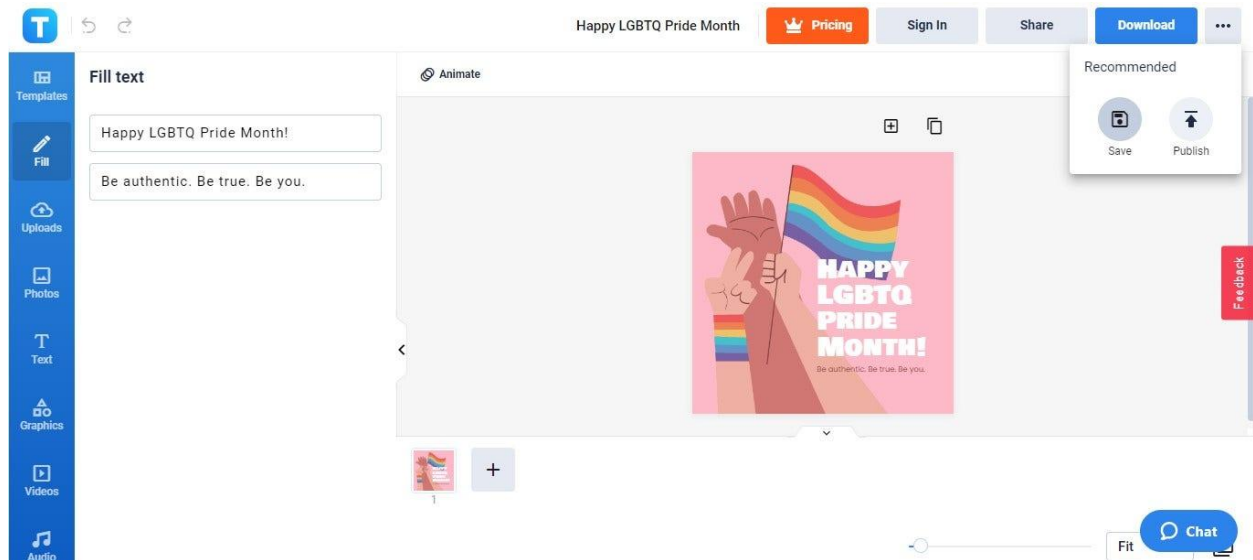

The template has its own default Pride Month greeting. You can change it if you want by going to the Fill panel. On the boxes under Fill Text, change the default Pride Month greeting/message to your own.

4. Add custom graphic designs.

If you want to add more visual elements to your template, go to the Graphics panel. Search for clipart or illustrations that relate to Pride Month. A good example would be an object with rainbow colors.

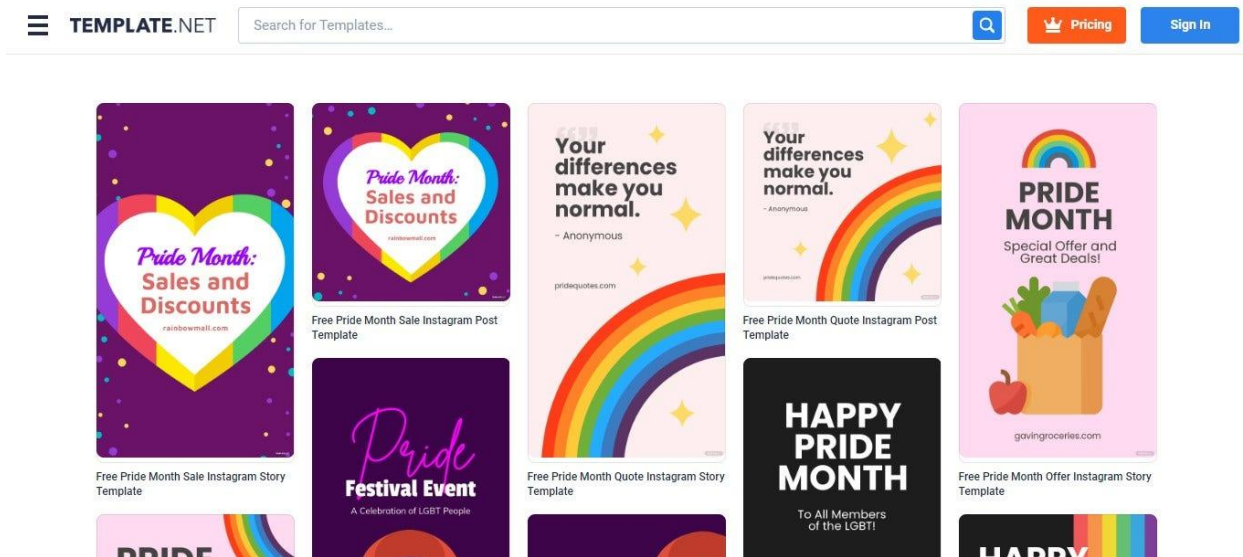

5. Save the template.

Once you're finished customizing the template, save it. Click the three-dotted icon on the upper right corner and select Save. Grab a copy of the template and upload it to your Twitter timeline.

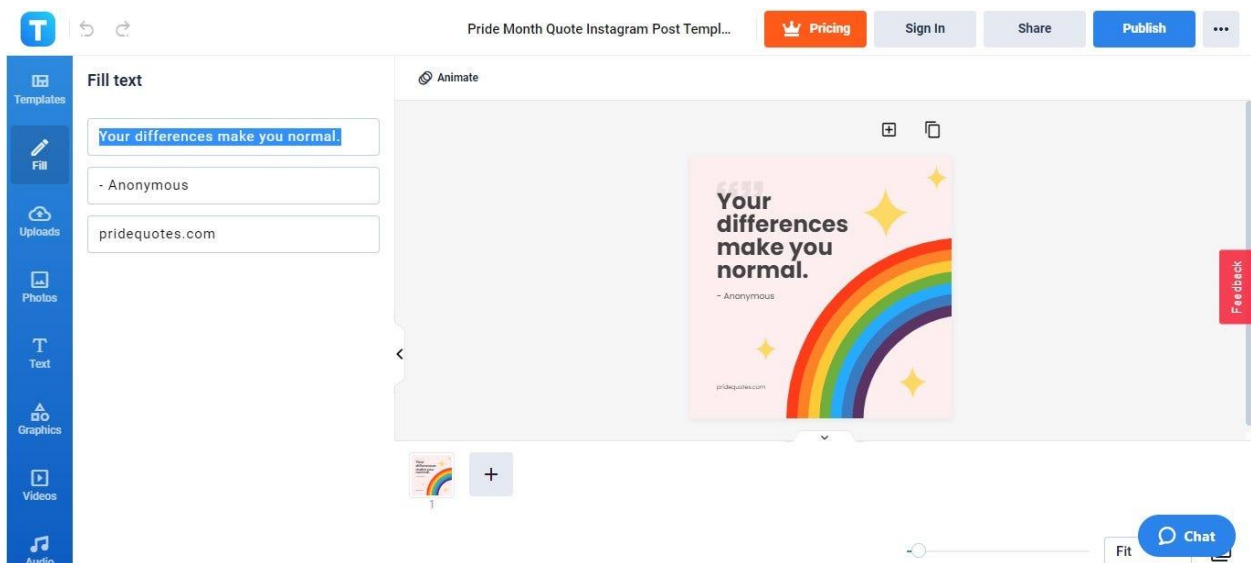

Instagram

1. Look for a Pride Month Instagram Post Template.

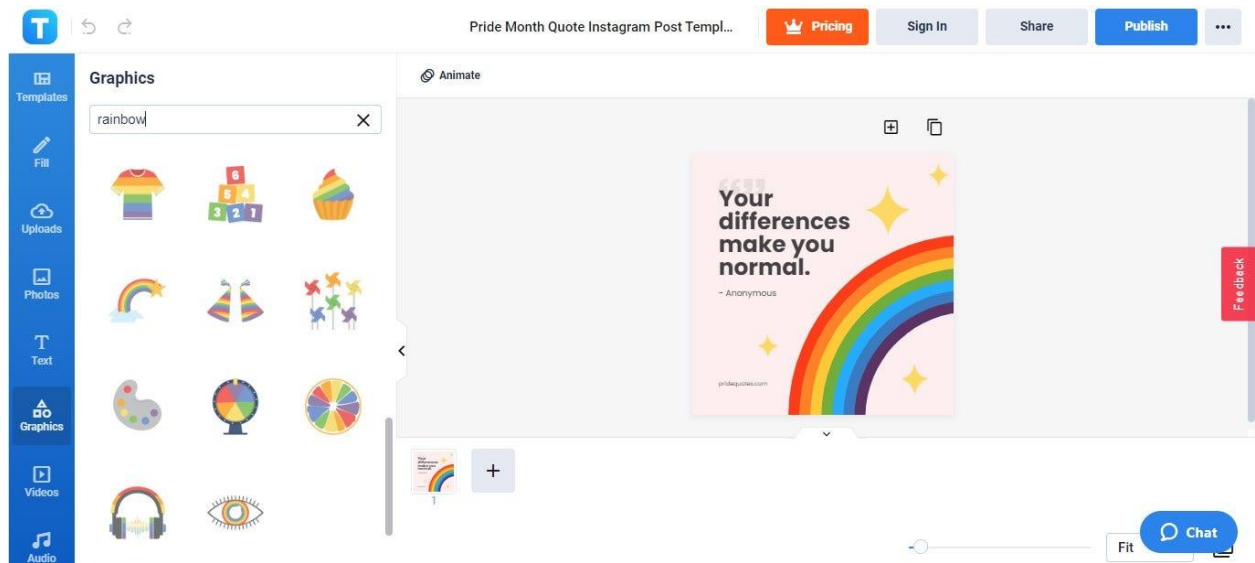

Search for Pride Month Instagram post templates on our site. Their aesthetics truly represent the spirit of Pride Month. Simply click on the template of your choice to start customizing it on our Editor page.

2. Input your unique Pride Month message.

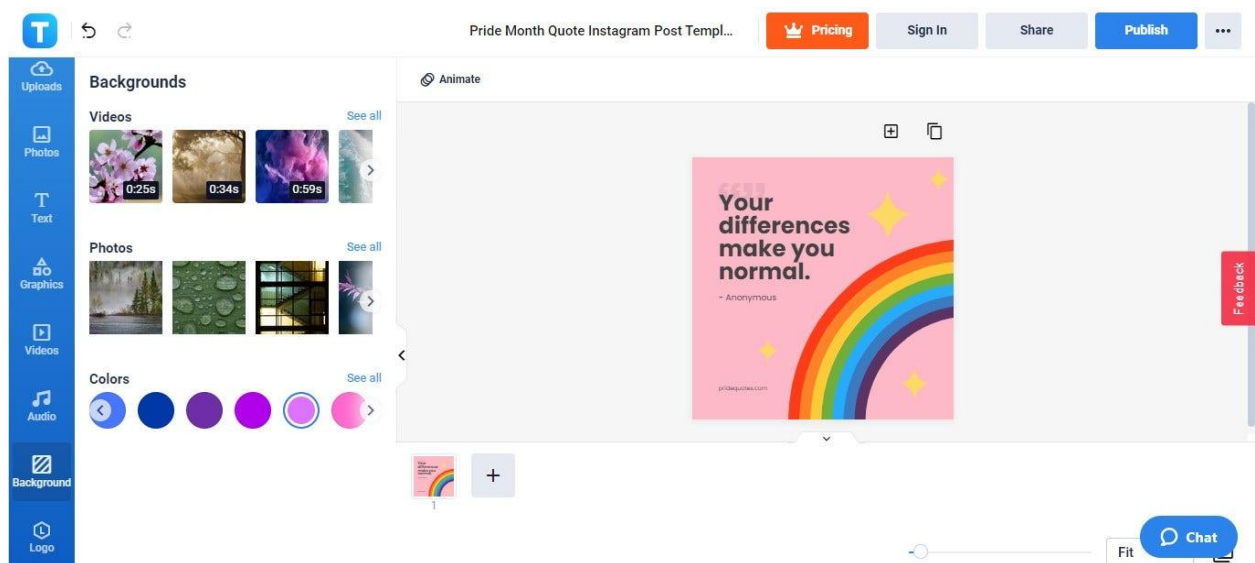

Head to the Fill panel on the left side of the Editor page. Click it to open the Fill Text boxes, and in those boxes is where you'll encode your custom Pride Month message.

3. Add rainbow-themed clipart.

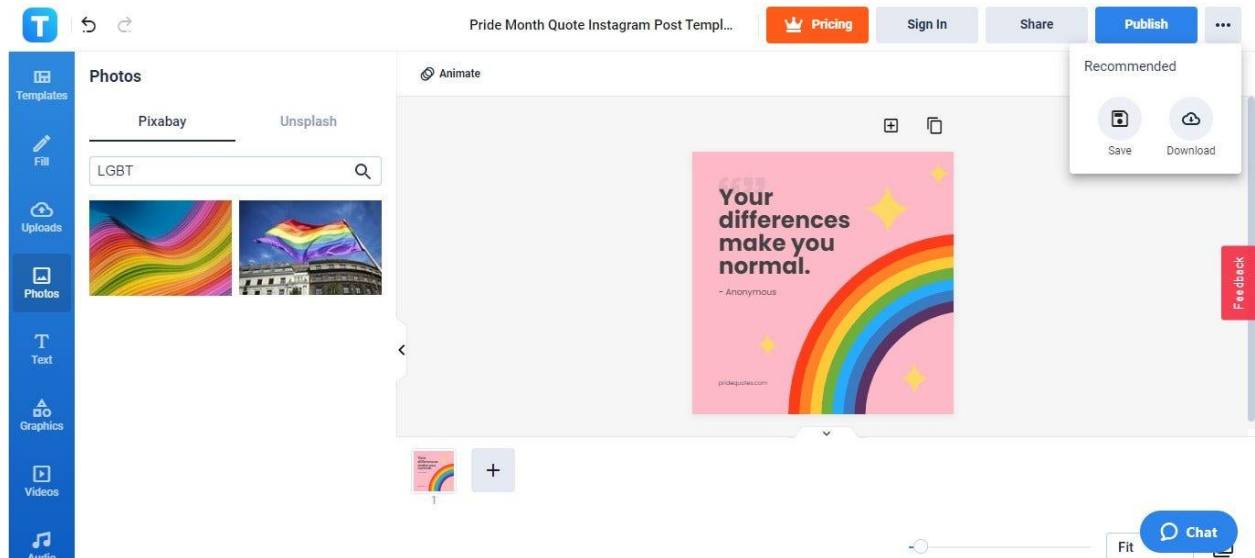

You can add more clipart to your selected template. We recommend adding rainbow-themed clipart since they're in line with Pride Month aesthetics. Go to the Graphics panel and type "rainbow" in the search bar. Select a graphic art that you want in order to add it to the template.

4. Customize the background color.

You can change the background color of the template if you want. Simply go to the Background panel and head to the Colors section. Under the Colors sections, choose a particular color you want. We suggest that you use pink, purple, yellow, or any rainbow color for the background.

5. Save and download the template.

If you're done customizing your template, save and download it. Click the three-dotted icon in the upper right corner. Select either Save or Download. After that, your template is ready to be uploaded to Instagram.

Pride Month vs. LGBT History Month

Pride Month is a celebration more dedicated to the continued acceptance of the LGBTQ community in the public.
