Patriot Day, not to be confused with Patriot's Day, is an annual observation in the US commemorating the tragic events of 9/11.

When Is Patriot Day?

Patriot Day is observed by Americans every year on September 11. It's observed on that same date yearly because it was on September 11, 2001, when a number of Al Qaeda terrorists hijacked four US commercial planes.

They intentionally crashed two of those planes straight into the World Trade Centers Twin Towers in New York. One plane crashed into the Pentagon, and the other crashed into a Rural area in Pennsylvania which according to reports was intended to crash into the White House.

Patriot Day Purpose, Importance

Patriot Day isn't a joyous holiday like most other American holidays such as the 4th of July and Flag Day. However, it's significantly important to US citizens as the reason behind it change their country, and also the world.

Remember Those Who Died

The people who died on 9/11 died tragically. Many of them were just going about their usual activities such as working in the office and walking the streets. Then, all of a sudden, disaster struck. Those who died left behind their kids, wives, husbands, friends, and other loved ones.

On Patriot Day, Americans honor the memory who those who died on 9/11. They do so by visiting their graves, offering prayers, posting pictures of them on social media, and other ways of paying tribute. They'll never be forgotten by their friends and family.

Honor the Heroes of 9/11

Amidst tragedies, heroes can be made, and it occurred on 9/11. The heroes of the 9/11 attacks are the local firefighters, rescue teams, soldiers of the US army, military personnel, and civilians who offered aid in the aftermath.

Americans honor those heroes on Patriot Day for their bravery, patriotism, and selfless acts to save lives. They're true patriots of the American country and are true inspirations. Their valor will always be remembered by American citizens and people around the world.

Beacon of Unity

Patriot Day is a day of unity. It's also a day that commemorates how the US citizens united as one nation to recover from the attacks. Even countries from around the world provided aid and established strategies to prevent something like 9/11 from ever happening again. So in a way, the attacks united the world.

Every year on September 11, Patriot Day serves as a reminder that being united can help nations overcome hardships and come out of adversities stronger.

What's on Patriot Day?

On Patriot Day, memorial ceremonies for those who died on 9/11 will be held. However, schools, businesses, and offices will remain open because Patriot Day isn't a federal holiday. Some Americans will display flags specific to 9/11 in honor of those who lost their lives and provided patriotic services. And also, flags displayed in the vicinity of American establishments are required to be at half-mast or half-staff.
