National Online Learning Day

National Online Learning Day is a day that highlights the benefits and achievements of online or distance learning. In 2020, schools and educational institutions were forced to adapt to online learning when the COVID-19 pandemic struck.

Table of Content

National Online Learning Day Definition and Meaning

National Online Learning Day is a unique holiday that's dedicated to the advocacy of online education and remote learning.

A big leap from the traditional formal education system, online learning is regarded by many as the future of education.

When Is National Online Learning Day?

National Online Learning Day is celebrated every year on September 15. Mostly observed in the United States, the holiday was first established in July of 2016. Advocates of online learning in the academic community believe that technology and the internet are important learning resources that need to be harnessed.

National Online Learning Day History

In 1996, Jones International University became the first educational institution that was accredited and recognized as a fully web-based university. And even if online education has been around for years leading up to the 21st century, it was not until July 2016 that National Online Learning Day was instituted. Today, distance learning has gained even more popularity around the world when schools around the world were forced to close down due to the global pandemic.

National Online Learning Day Purpose and Importance

National Online Learning Day celebrates the advantages and highlights the progress of online education. The following are some of the primary reasons why many members of the academic community deem it an important holiday.

Recognizes the Benefits of Online Learning

National Online Learning Day is a day that highlights not just the different advantages of online learning, but it also recognizes the progress and achievements of online learning over the years. Many advocates for online learning believe that it is poised to become the future of education, or at least a hybrid of both on-site and online learning. Some of the various benefits of online education include greater flexibility, accountability, and convenience for learners.

Acknowledges the Accomplishments of the Online Learning Community

National Online Learning Day is not just an event to promote the practice of virtual learning. More importantly, it recognizes the advocates behind it and acknowledges the achievements that online education has gained through the years. The greater academic community should also be celebrated on National Online Learning Day for their efforts to evolve and adapt to changing times.

Celebrate Online Education

As a whole, there is no denying that online education has changed the academic landscape. Remote learning has opened many doors and possibilities that were previously thought to be impossible. Especially during the COVID-19 pandemic, online education has proved to be a feasible and viable alternative to the conventional classroom setting.

What's In National Online Learning Day?

Schools, universities, and classrooms everywhere celebrate National Online Learning Day by organizing virtual activities for a variety of educational purposes. Whether it is a virtual classroom lecture, academic webinar, or an online conference summit, different academic communities celebrate the holiday in their own way. And it is not just young students and teachers who get to participate in National Online Learning Day. Many individuals and professionals also join online courses or sign up for virtual lectures and webinars that cover a broad range of topics.

How to Create a National Online Learning Day Social Media Post

Show your solidarity and support on September 15 by sharing a National Online Learning Day greeting or message on social media. The basic step-by-step instructions below describe how to create a customized social media post on Facebook, Instagram, and WhatsApp.

Facebook

1. Choose a National Online Learning Day Facebook Post Template

National Online Learning Day FB Post

The first step is to select an editable and downloadable National Online Learning Day Facebook template. Using the search bar at the top of the page, you can easily type in what you are looking for.

2. Edit the Greeting or Message

In the editor tool, just click the Fill button located on the sidebar menu panel. Highlight or select the text then change the text accordingly. You can also customize the text size, font, and color with the use of various format settings.

3. Add Images and Graphics

After changing the text, add images or other elements related to National Online Learning Day. You can choose from a wide selection of shapes, stickers, videos, frames, and audio then simply insert the objects into the template.

4. Customize the Graphics
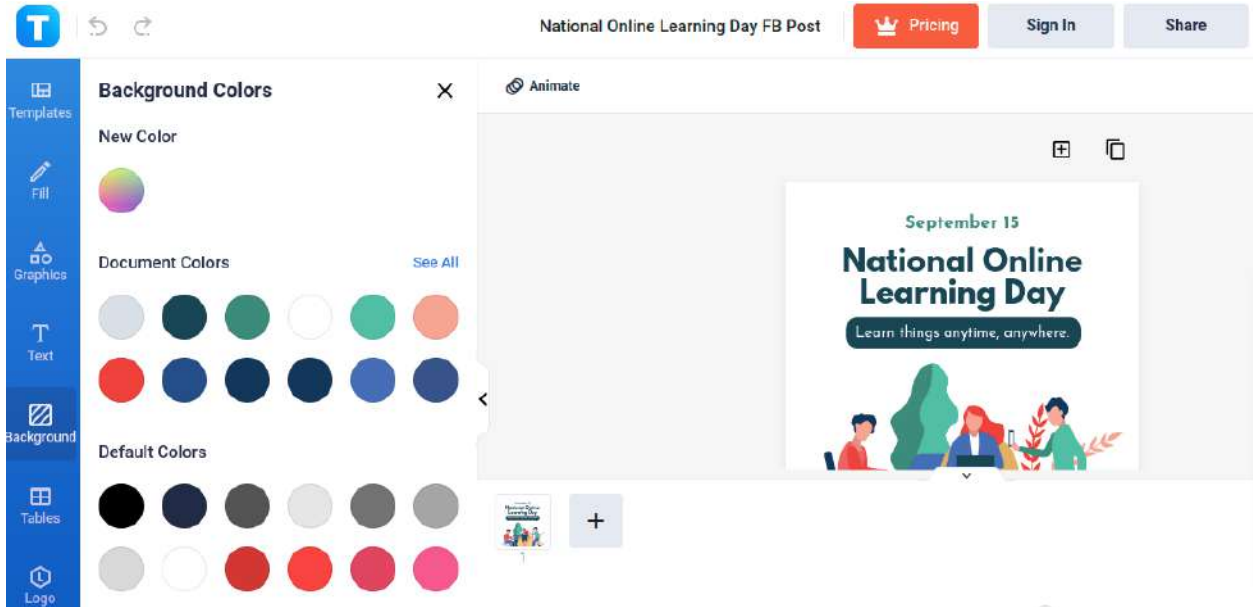

You can customize and modify the images and other objects in the template. In the editor tool, you can resize photos, crop pictures, rotate objects, and change the background color according to your needs and preferences.

5. Save the Template
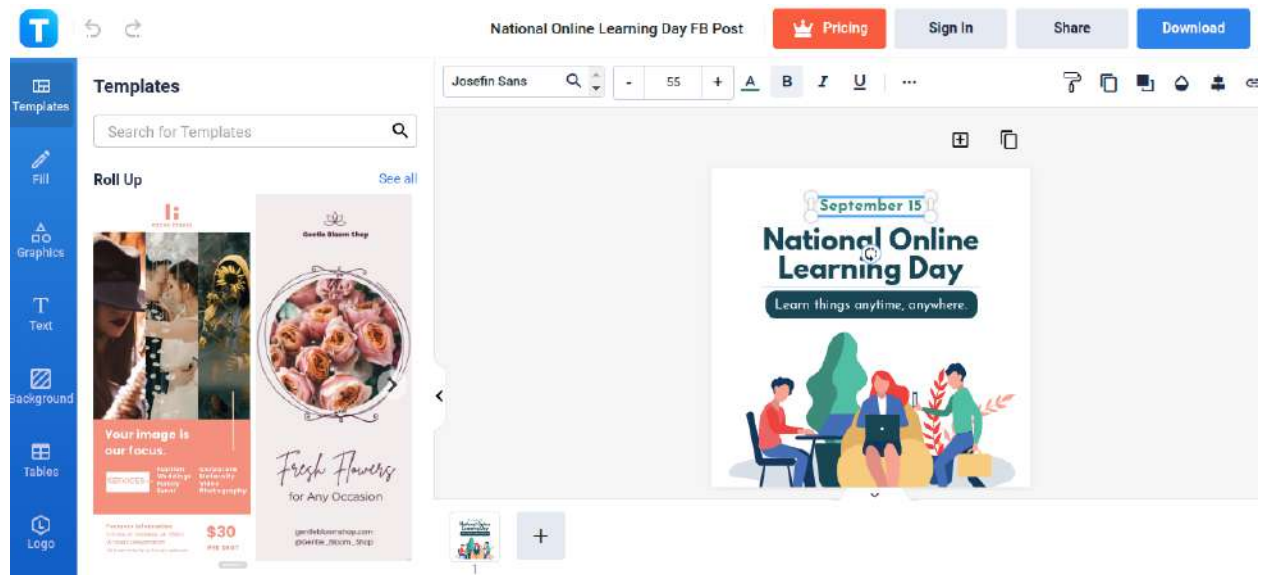

When you are done editing the template, share and download the template by clicking the Download button located in the upper right corner of the screen. Export or download the file in your preferred file format such as PNG, JPG, GIF, etc.

Instagram

1. Select a National Online Learning Day Instagram Post Template

National Online Learning Day Instagram Post

Choose from a number of sample Roald Dahl Day Instagram posts or story templates from the template gallery. Simply use the search bar at the top of the page and type in what you are looking for.
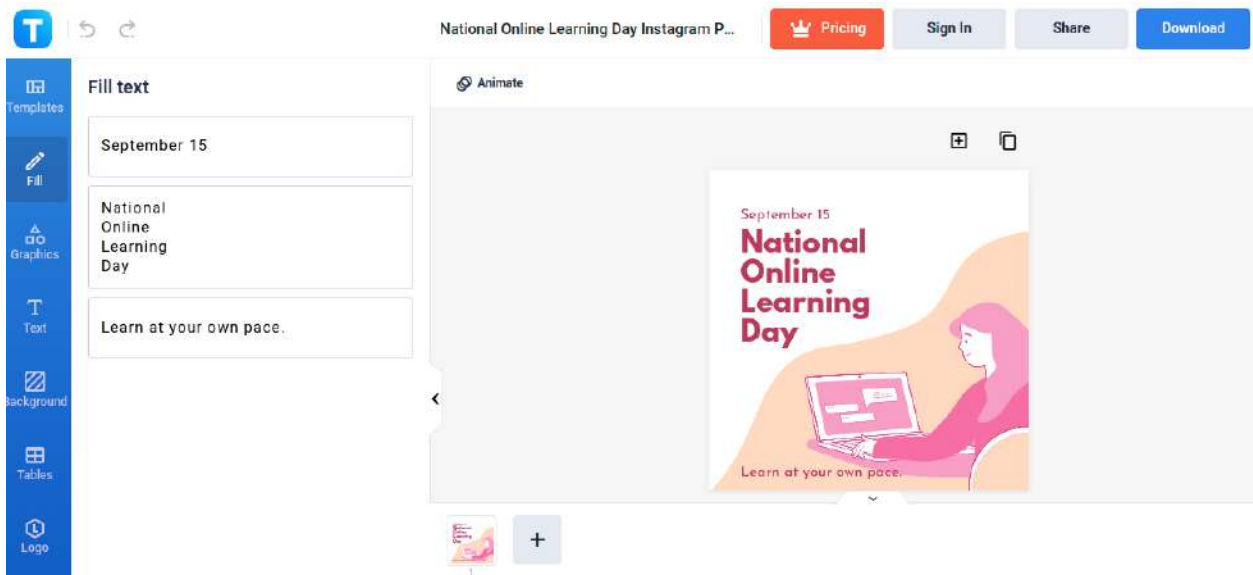

2. Create a Custom Message

Edit the text or message in the template by clicking the Fill icon on the sidebar menu panel. Customize or modify the text size, font, and color using the different format settings found in the editor tool.

3. Add Images and Graphics
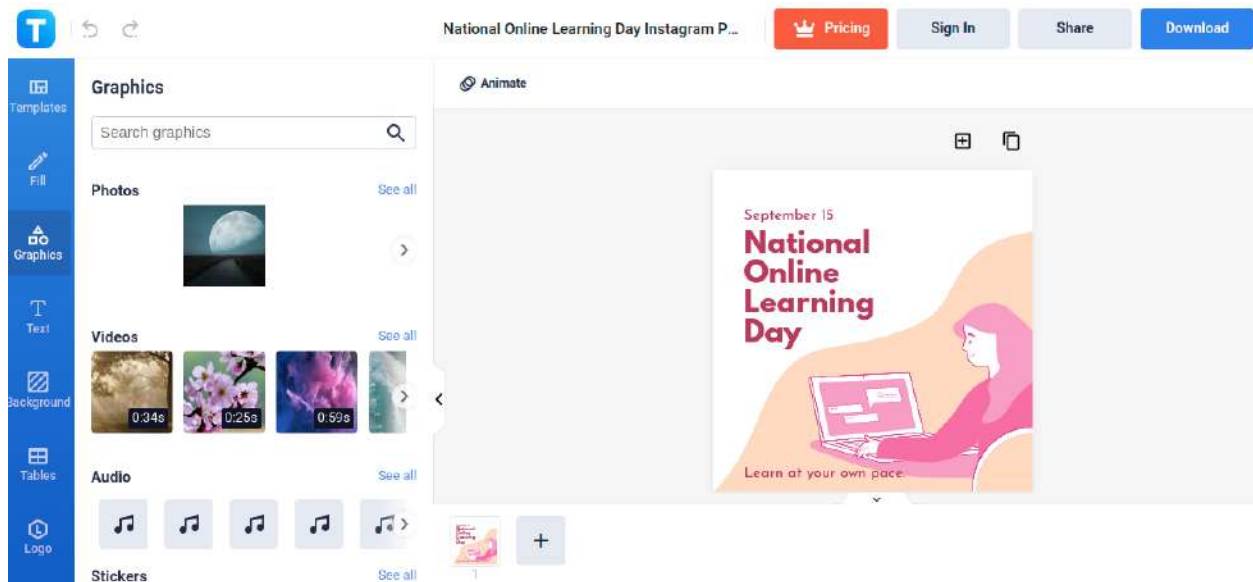

After editing the text, customize the template further by adding more pictures or objects. You can upload images directly from your computer or search for free pictures from Pixabay and Unsplash in the editor tool.

4. Format or Customize the Graphics
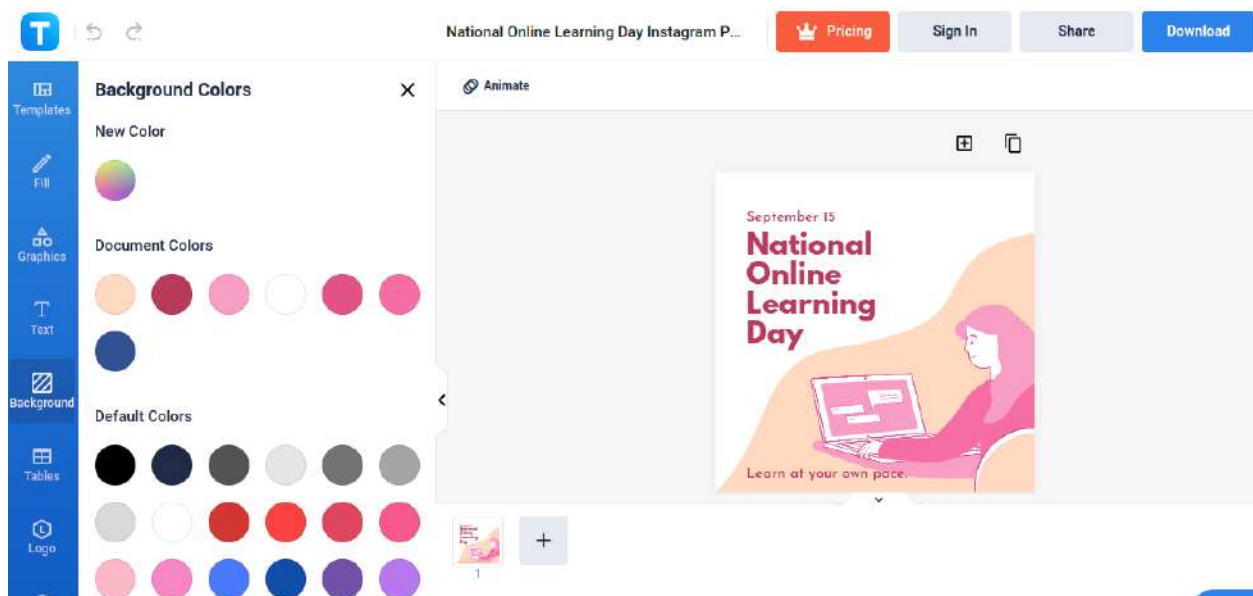

The editor tool allows you to rotate, crop, resize and customize the images according to your needs and preferences. You can likewise change the background color by simply clicking the Background button on the sidebar menu.

5. Download and Save the Template
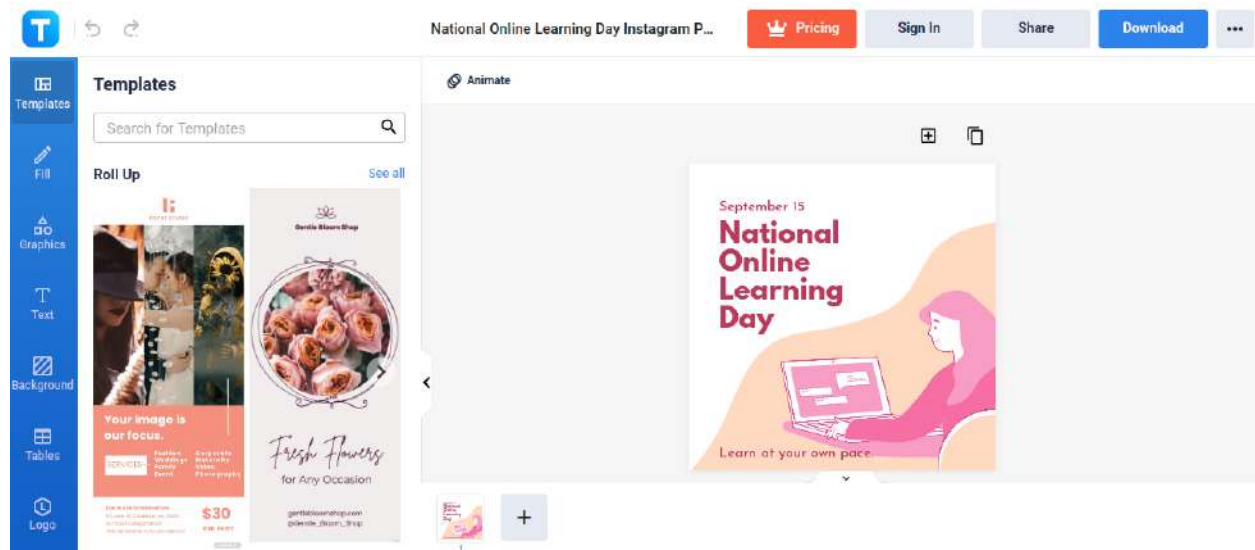

When you are finished editing, save and share the template by clicking either the Download or Share button on the upper right corner of the page. You can also export or download the template in a number of different file formats.

WhatsApp

1. Select a National Online Learning Day WhatsApp Template

National Online Learning Day Whatsapp Post

Using the search bar at the top of the page, simply type in what you're looking for. There are numerous creative and professionally-designed National Online Learning Day templates to choose from.

2. Create a Custom Message
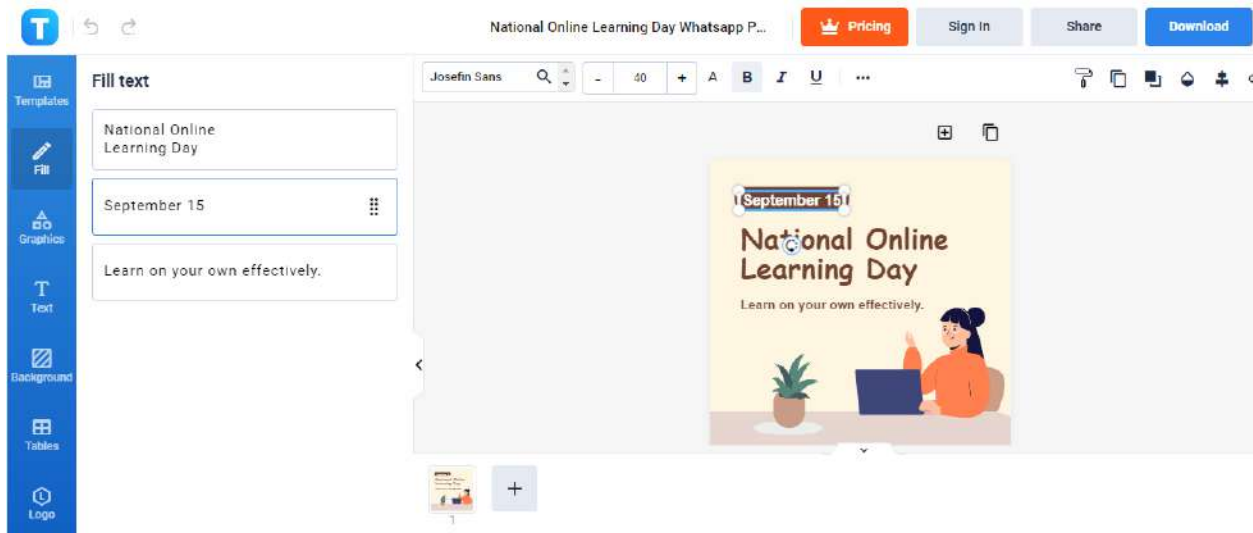

Edit the text by clicking the Fill icon on the sidebar menu. As much as possible, keep your WhatsApp message or greeting brief but sincere.

3. Add Graphics and Images
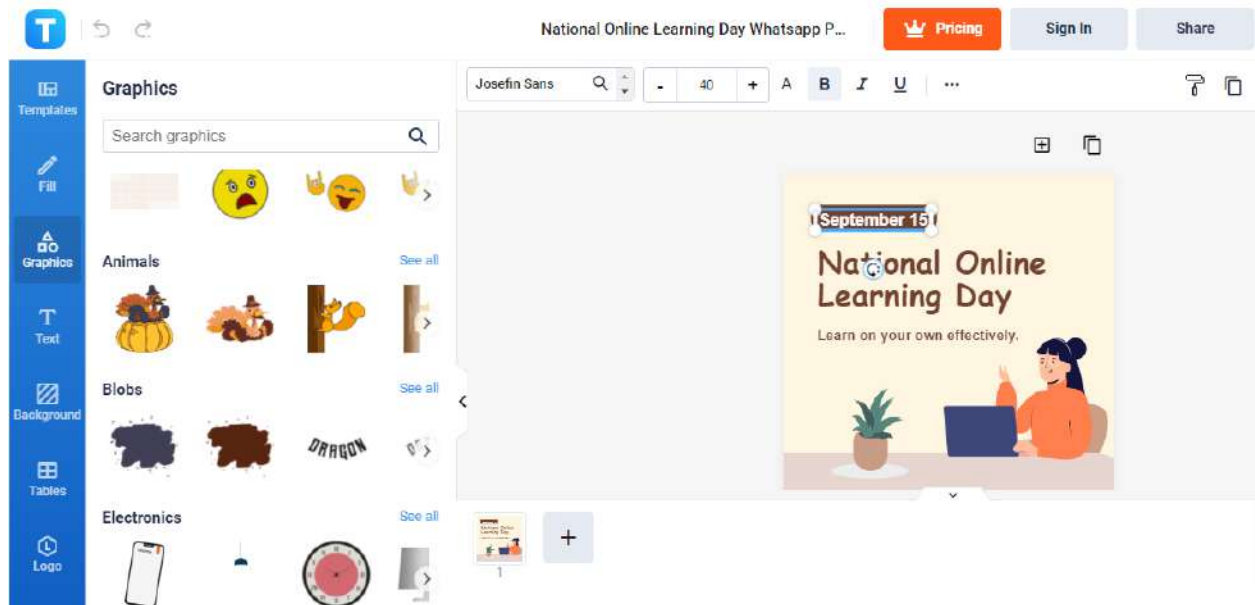

Customize your post by inserting images, graphics, and other elements into the template. Whether it is video, audio, frames, symbols, stickers, or shapes, search for the right one by using the search bar in the editor tool.

4. Customize the Background Color
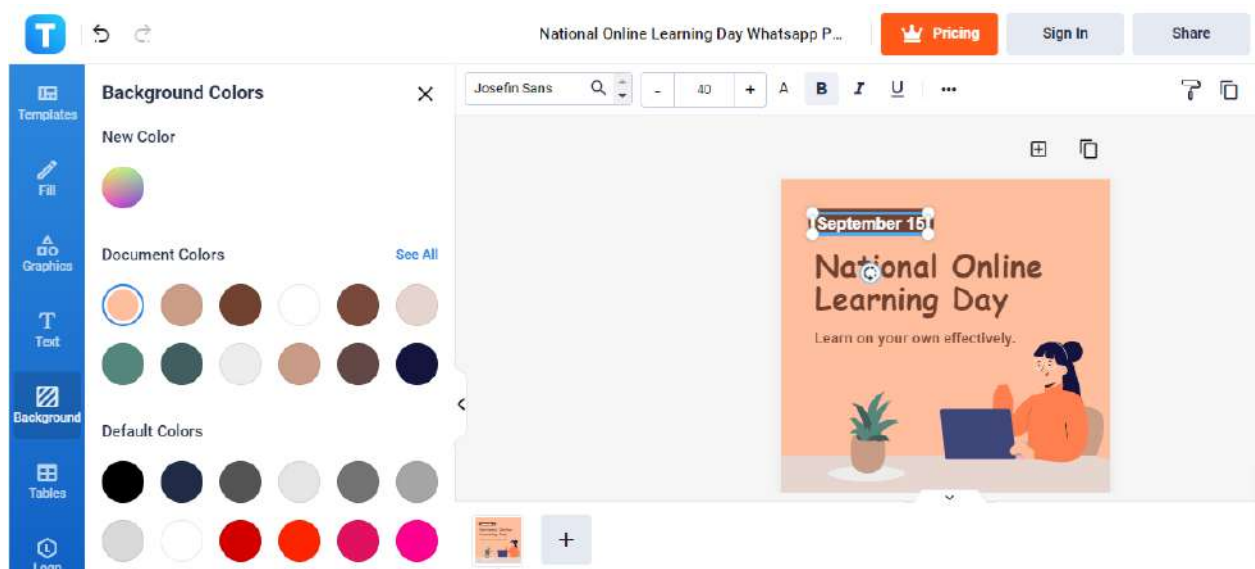

Change the background color of the template by selecting the Background button on the sidebar menu. Choose bright and loud colors to capture the attention of young students and school children.

5. Download the Template
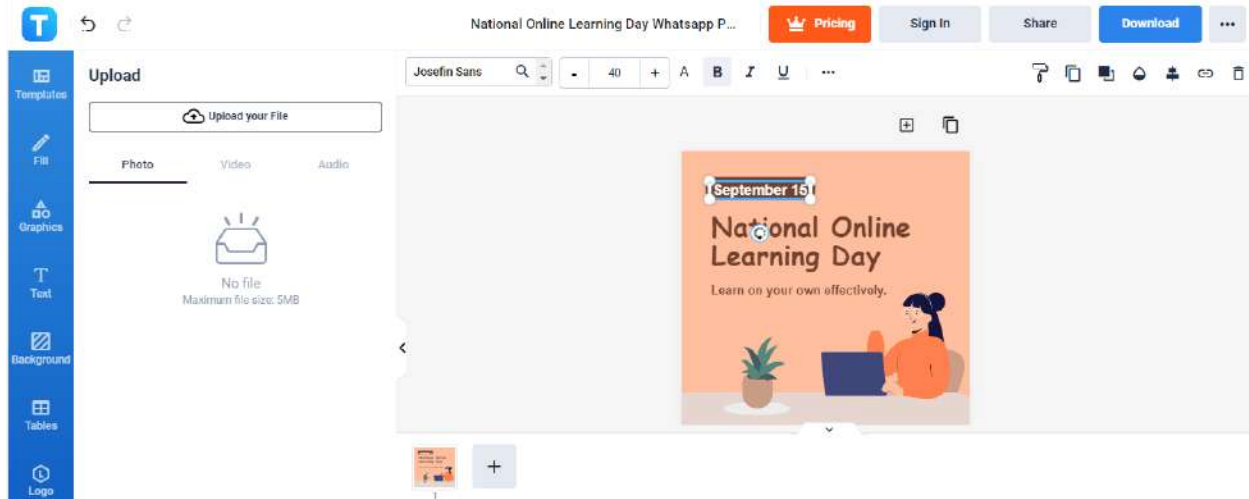

After you are done editing, save your work by clicking the Download button at the top of the page. You can download, save, or export your work in your preferred file format such as JPG, PDF, PNG, or GIF.

National Online Learning Day vs. National Puzzle Day

National Online Learning Day is a holiday dedicated to the promotion of online education as a viable alternative to traditional learning.

National Puzzle Day is a holiday that encourages people to discover the benefits of playing puzzles, particularly puzzles that exercise brain functions such as Crossword and Sudoku; it is observed annually every January 29.

National Online Learning Day Ideas and Examples

There is no doubt that online learning has become a game changer in education. But even with that, there are still a lot of people who remain unconvinced and skeptical. In addition to educating people about the advantages of online learning, you can show your support by sharing a simple social media greeting or even an elaborate flyer or poster.

National Online Learning Day WhatsApp Post Ideas and Examples

Share this National Online Learning Day WhatsApp post as your status to show your support for distance learning.

National Online Learning Day Website Banner Ideas and Examples

For September 15, you can create a blog article and throw in a National Online Learning Day Website Banner to commemorate the holiday.

National Online Learning Day Wallpaper Ideas and Examples

This versatile National Online Learning Day wallpaper makes the perfect background for all your banner, flyer, and poster needs.

National Online Learning Day Poster Ideas and Examples

To celebrate the holiday, you can put up a National Online Learning Day Poster in the classroom, school hallway, or any public area.

National Online Learning Day Photo Background Ideas and Examples

The National Online Learning Day photo background is simple yet elegant enough to use as an event tarpaulin backdrop or even as a zoom background.

National Online Learning Day Image Background Ideas and Examples

This versatile and professionally-designed National Online Learning Day Image Background can be used for digital and printed purposes.

National Online Learning Day Greeting Card Vector Ideas and Examples

Send a thoughtful National Online Learning Day greeting card to teachers and school administrators on September 15.
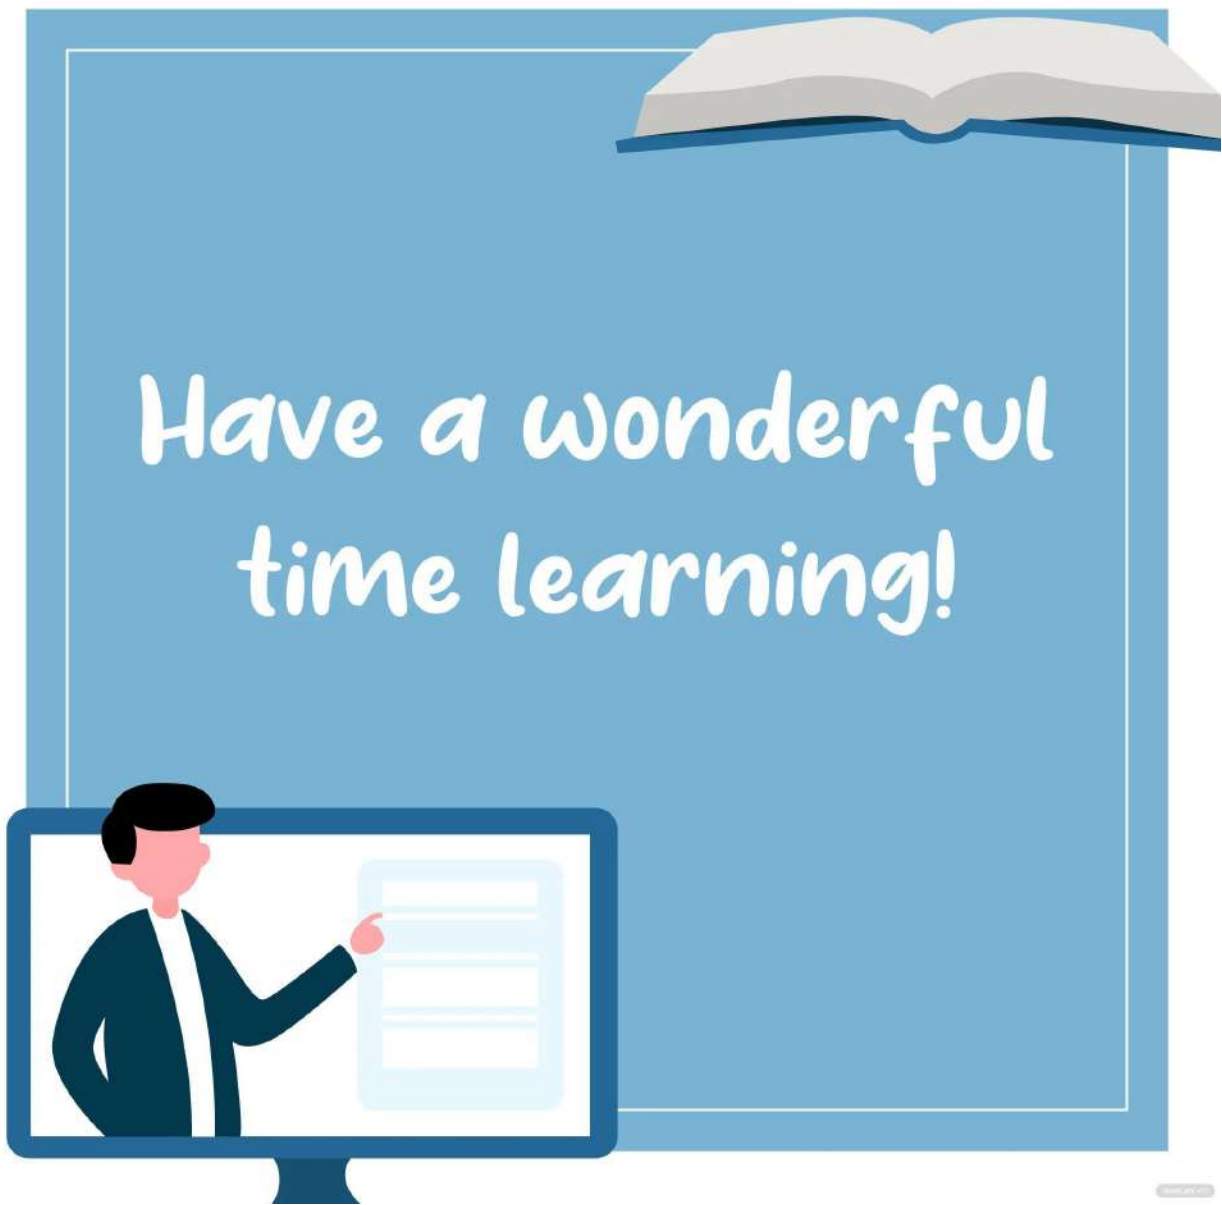

National Online Learning Day Clip Art Ideas and Examples

Decorate your posters, flyers, and banners with this artistic National Online Learning Day clip art image.

National Online Learning Day Cartoon Vector Ideas and Examples

This creative and colorful National Online Learning Day cartoon vector image can be the perfect addition to your flyer or poster designs.
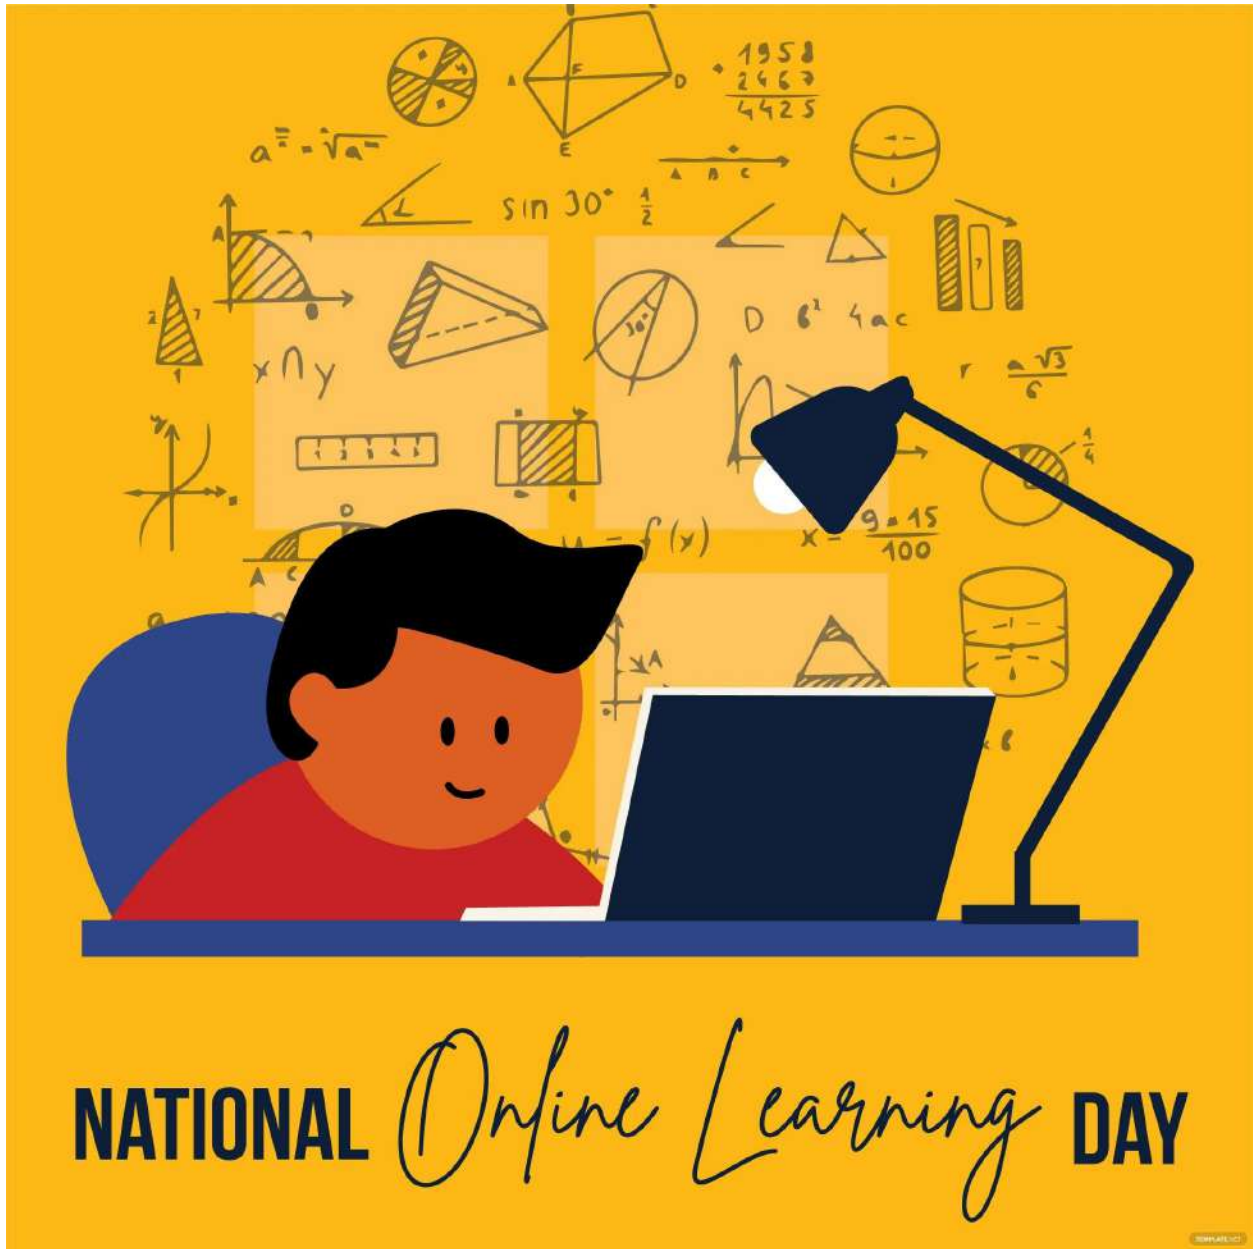

National Online Learning Day Banner Background Ideas and Examples

For September 15, why not use this National Online Learning Day banner background for your Google Meet sessions or Zoom classes?

FAQs

Why is National Online Learning Day celebrated?

National Online Learning Day is celebrated to show support and advocate for online education and distance or remote instruction.

When was online learning created?

Online learning gained popularity in the late 1980s to the early 1990s when the University of Phoenix established an educational program called CompuServe in 1989.

How do you celebrate National Online Learning Day?

Celebrate National Online Learning Day by participating in online classes or courses or by using different social media networking platforms to engage in remote education.

What is the impact of online learning?

Online learning has greatly changed the education landscape in more ways than one; for example, it has made education more accessible and convenient for a lot of people.

What are the activities in online learning?

Remote or online learning activities include virtual field trips, interactive workshops or sessions, online classroom discussions, and remote lectures.

What is the value of National Online Learning Day?

National Online Learning Day celebrates the multiple resources available for online education, particularly the technological advances that make it possible to learn in a non-traditional setting.

What are the values of National Online Learning Day?

National Online Learning Day promotes the values of a flexible educational environment where it allows students to learn at their own pace.

Why is online learning important?

Online learning is important because it offers students, as well as teachers, an alternative learning setting without sacrificing quality education.

What is the idea behind National Online Learning Day?

The central idea of National Online Learning Day is to promote the value of remote education and to help students learn the value of managing their time responsibly.

What is the conclusion about online learning?

Despite the considerable room for improvement, online education has a lot of potentials to advance the learning situation and circumstances of students at all levels.

What can you say about online learning?

Online learning is widely considered to be the future of education because it is a clear break from the traditional and conventional learning setup.

How does online learning help students grow?

Online learning can help students grow in a number of different ways, especially in the areas of time management, ownership, and responsibility.

What is the theme of National Online Learning Day?

National Online Learning Day's overarching theme embraces the vast potential of online education and remote learning.

What are the positive things about online learning?

There are many positive things about online learning such as greater flexibility, accessibility, and for some, a broader range of options (especially short courses and skills-based learning).

What is the slogan of National Online Learning Day?

The slogan of National Online Learning Day is that people can learn anywhere, anytime, and at any age thanks to online education.