World Sepsis Day denotes a health awareness global event to take action against sepsis and it goes in line with Sepsis Awareness Month held every September. Sepsis results from the body's threatening response to dangerous microorganisms, and extreme monitoring is crucial as this type of infection has taken the lives of over 11 million people around the world every year.

World Sepsis Day Definition and Meaning

World Sepsis Day is an annual event that aims to keep people united in eliminating the harmful effects of sepsis on society, especially when the official World Sepsis Day organization website said that only about 7 to 50% of individuals know what sepsis is.

World Sepsis Day is a special type of holiday for spreading awareness about the risks, warning signs, mortality rate, and prevention tips of sepsis; this day is an opportunity for everyone to be educated about sepsis.

When Is World Sepsis Day?

World Sepsis Day occurs every September 13 as Sepsis Awareness Month is in September. And it has been that way since 2012 which is easily recognizable through pink picnics and lots of news or media coverage regarding sepsis during the actual event.

World Sepsis Day History

World Sepsis Day can be traced back to 2012 when a nonprofit group known as the Global Sepsis Alliance (GSA) initiated the idea of this holiday. It was their mission or slogan to eliminate the dangers of sepsis worldwide, and that matches the very same theme of World Sepsis Day. And over the years, about 100 organizations around the globe have participated in GSA and countless people showed their support for the cause through donations and funding.

World Sepsis Day Purpose, Importance

There are many reasons to join the cause of World Sepsis Day, especially when it is a global event where anyone can participate. And you should be reminded of this holiday's purpose and importance before even taking part in it.

Sepsis as an Underrated Infection

What is shocking about sepsis is that reports confirmed that around 11 million people, from children to adults, across the world, die from sepsis. But ironically, only 7 to 50% of people know about the said viral infection. And it only makes sense for World Sepsis Day to spearhead the chance of boosting awareness about this underrated yet extremely dangerous infection before the disaster gets worse statistically.

Sepsis Is Preventable

It is an accepted fact that sepsis can be prevented such as vaccination or any treatment involving improving one's hygiene. Before considering diagnosis or hospitalization, you may even check for early signs until the number of deaths from sepsis would decrease year by year. With the help of a lab test, sepsis education, and other facts from trusted sources, you'll eventually realize that it is possible to control the adverse effects of sepsis.

Public Awareness to Save Lives

World Sepsis Day encourages public awareness about being watchful towards sepsis in general. It is the right time for people to talk about the infection on social media, to allow healthcare experts in explaining what sepsis is, or to donate to the World Sepsis Day organization and continue saving lives. There is a great difference to expect when more public get informed about sepsis starting from what World Sepsis Day stands for.

What's on World Sepsis Day?

During World Sepsis Day, charitable donations and campaigns for raising sepsis awareness are ubiquitous. There are also World Sepsis Day social media posts, pink picnics, free sepsis education programs, photo exhibits, and other types of events linked to the holiday. The World Sepsis Day organization's main website has a full list of programs on what can be done during this special celebration.

How to Create a World Sepsis Day Social Media Post

The easiest way to spread awareness about World Sepsis Day is when you do it online, especially if you set the post to public and you have tons of friends and followers. And you can't go wrong in making riveting World Sepsis Day-themed social media posts, such as the following:

Facebook

1. Download a World Sepsis Day Facebook post template.

Visit Template.net and look for the whole collection of World Sepsis Day templates. Then, click on the template which is set to Facebook post format. Select "Edit This Template FREE" found on the right side of the template to get started.

2. Fill in the boxes with your message.
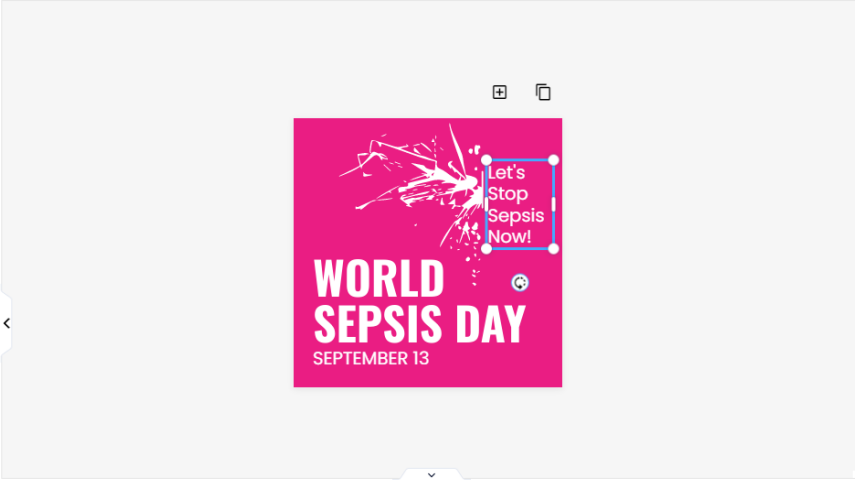

Now that you are inside the Editor tool, start editing the text by clicking "Fill" on the left corner of your screen. Write your message on each box and you'll get a preview of your template's text as seen on the right. Your message can be the World Sepsis Day greeting, the sepsis statistics infographic, or perhaps the date of the holiday.

3. Add spectacular graphics to the post.
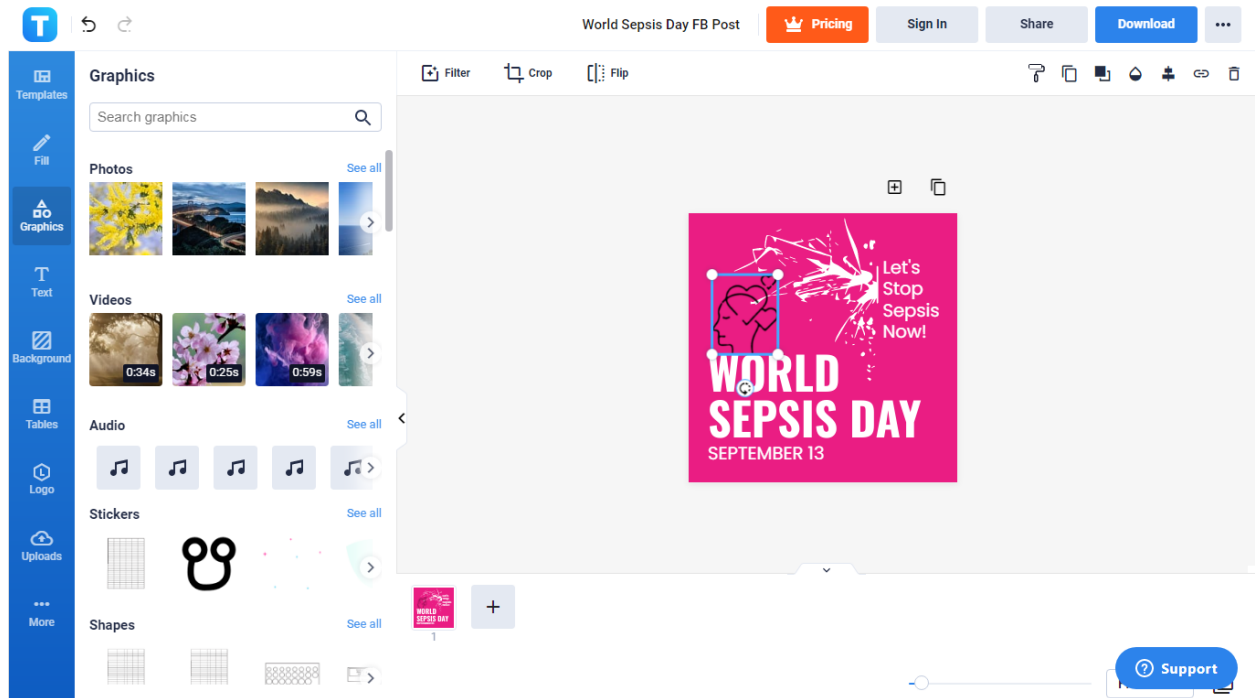

Click "Graphics" on the left-side menu to add beautiful pictures to your template. Pictures can be anything related to the event such as a virus cartoon image, healthcare clipart, a pink ribbon, or pics of a patient who survived sepsis. Don't forget the adjust the sizes and places per image you add.

4. Change the background color of the template.
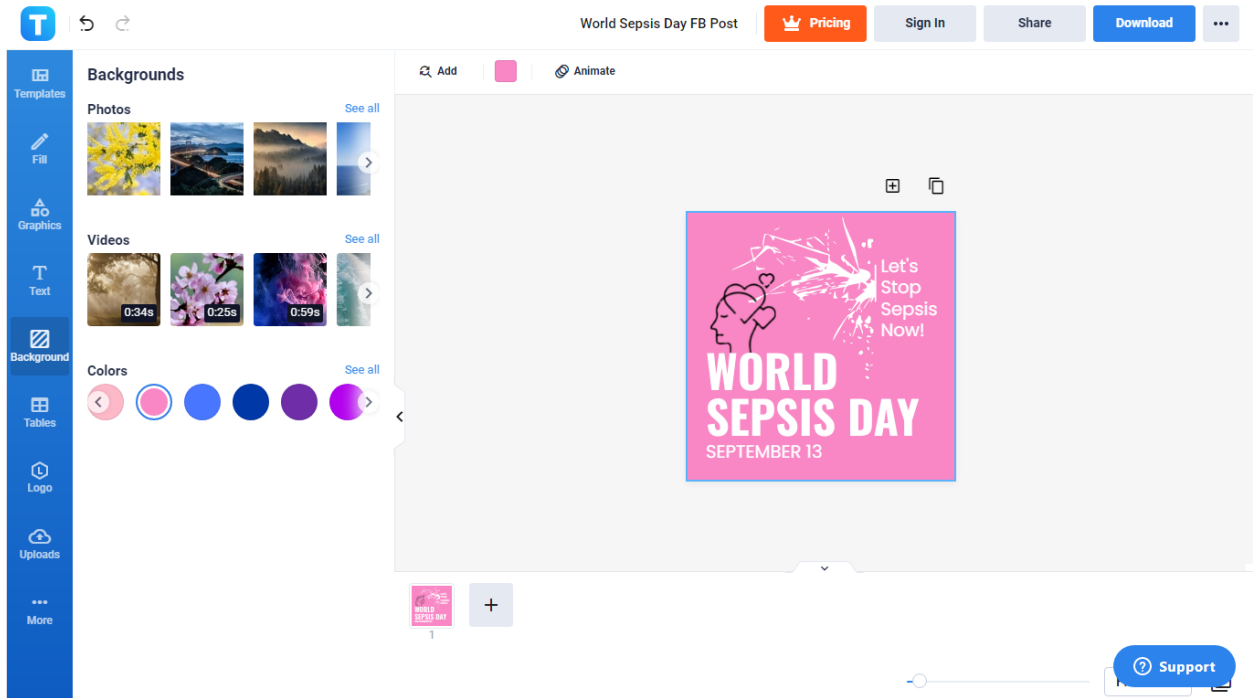

You can adjust the settings such as changing the color of your Facebook post template background. Click "Background" on the left and choose a color from the palette available. You may also use your preferred images as the background by the way.

5. Save the template and move to Facebook.
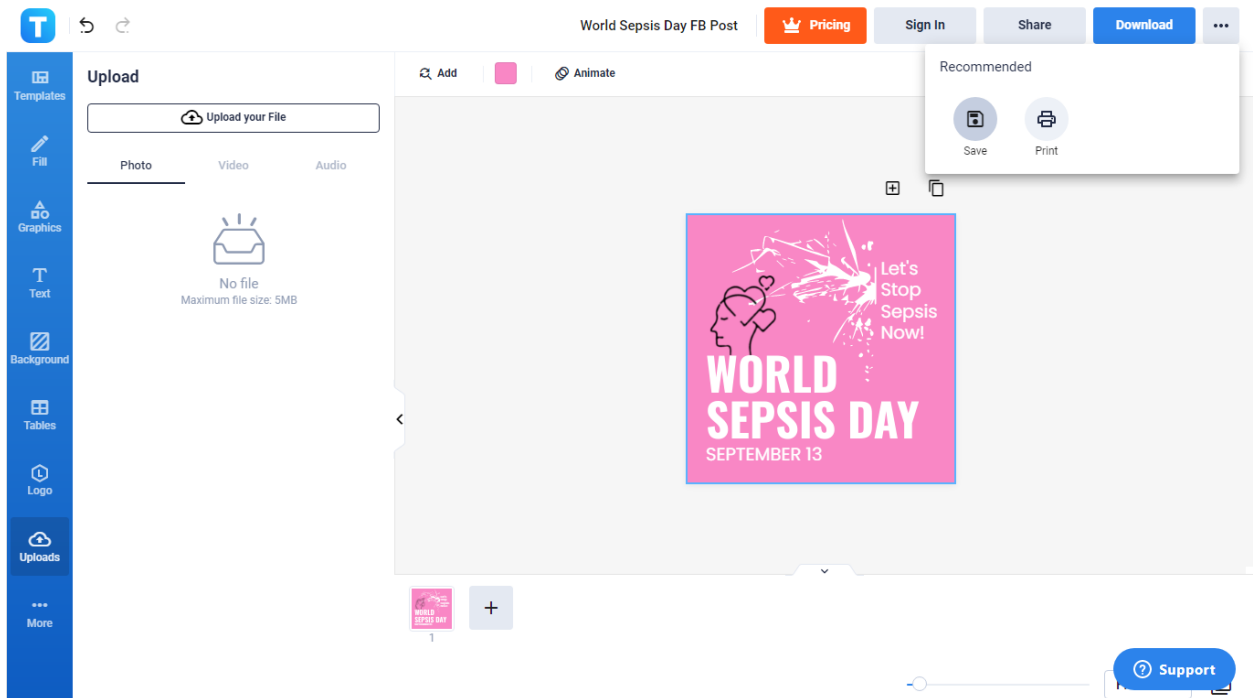

Edit the rest of the elements on your template such as the logo, table, and other options in the Editor bundle. Then, hit the three dots on the topmost right side of your screen and click "Save." As World Sepsis Day approaches, don't forget to post what you just made on Facebook to spread awareness shortly.
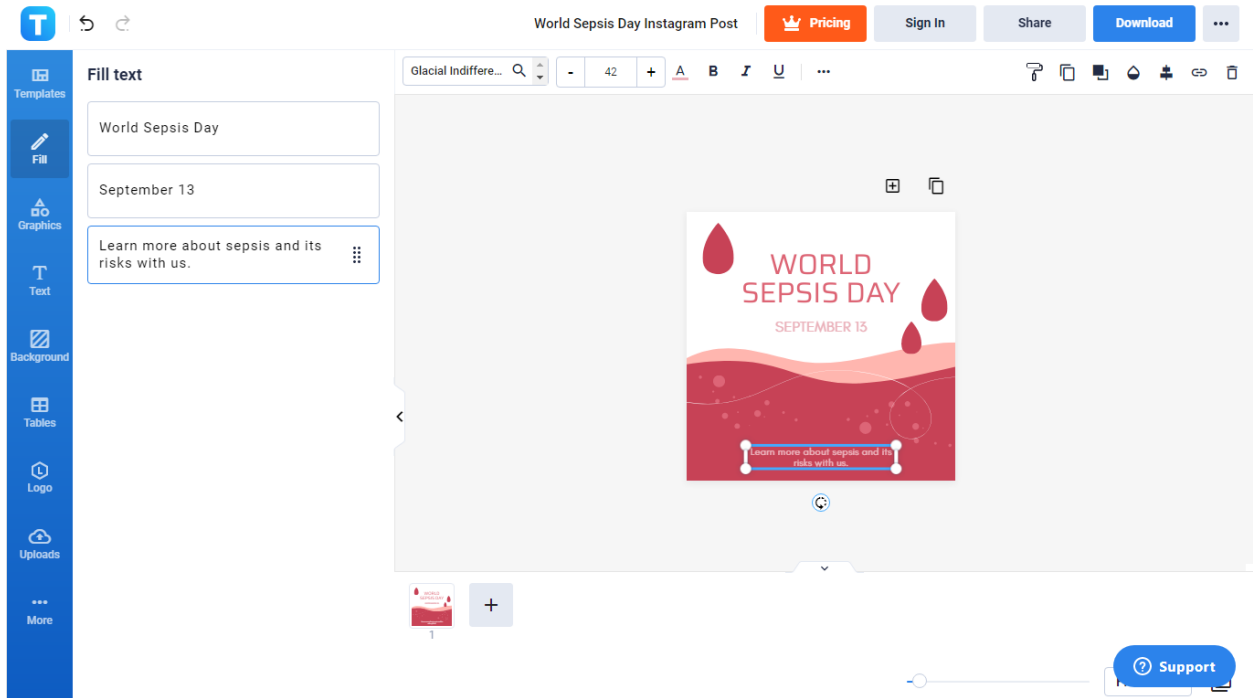

Instagram

1. Optimize a free World Sepsis Day Instagram post template.

View Template.net's resources of premade World Sepsis Day templates. Choose the template in IG post format. Then, move to the Editor tool to personalize the template and make it your own.

2. Write the text in the boxes provided.

Use the "Fill" tool to input texts into your IG post template. Take advantage of every text box when it comes to writing the World Sepsis Day slogan, the symptoms and stages of sepsis signs, and even statements related to nursing, epidemiology, physiology, etc. As long as your main message is complete, you're definitely good to go.

3. Insert cool pictures in designing the template.
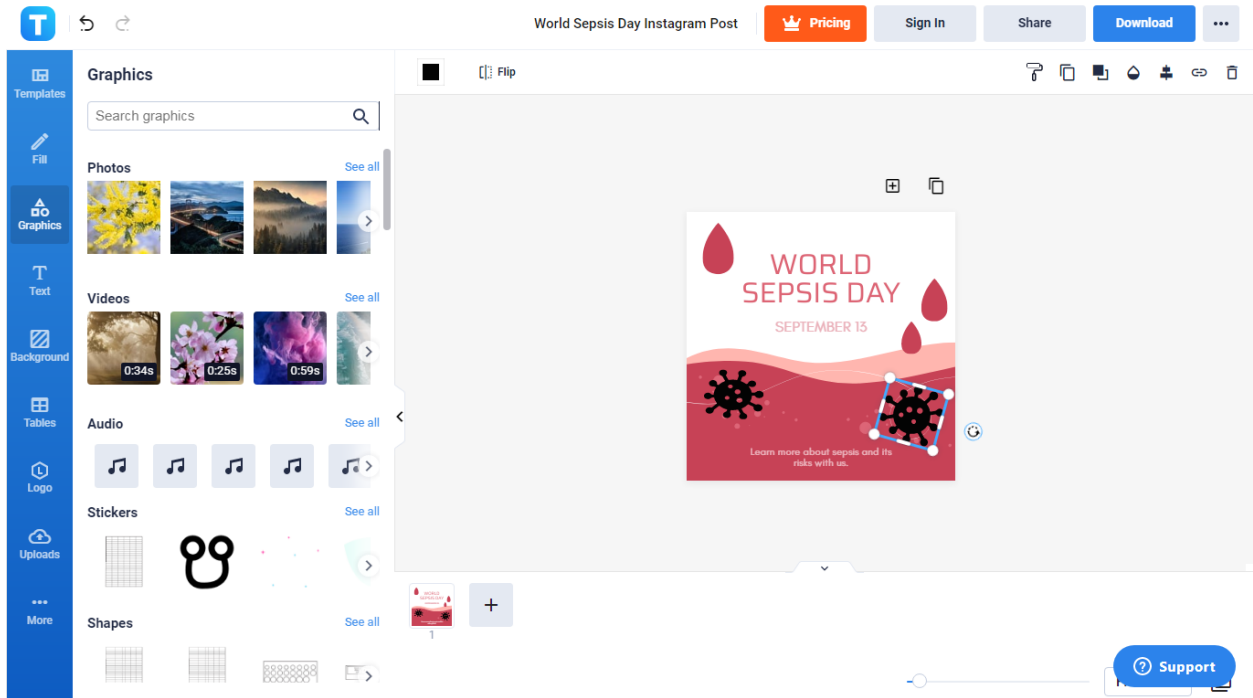

Leverage the "Graphics" tool when it comes to adding impressive visuals to the post. Just like a poster, banner, flyer, or any promotional tool, images play a great role to catch attention rather than just posting full texts. And a golden mechanism while placing pictures in the IG post is to mind their sizes because they might be covering the texts already.

4. Incorporate tables, backgrounds, and logos as well.
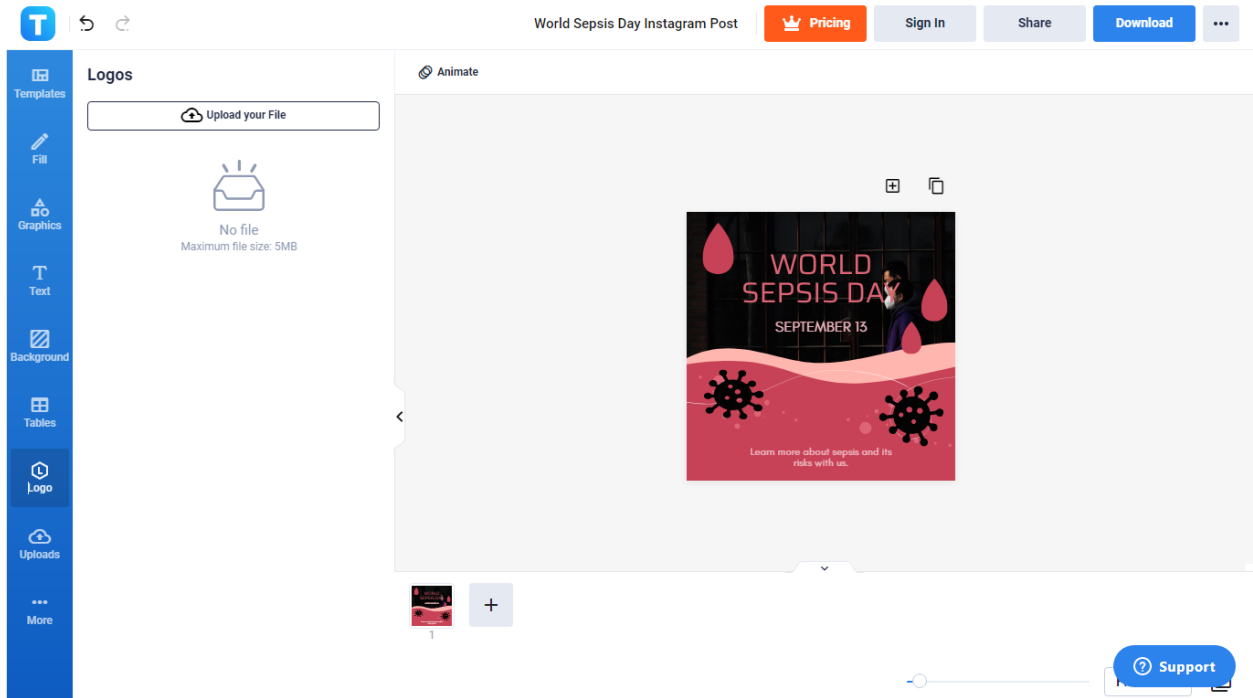

Use the rest of the Editor tool's features such as the "Tables," "Background," and "Logo." Click any of the following and you may insert more elements into the Instagram post template. Resize and reposition them as well so that every element added looks crisp and clear in the outcome.

5. Save your work and publish it on IG.
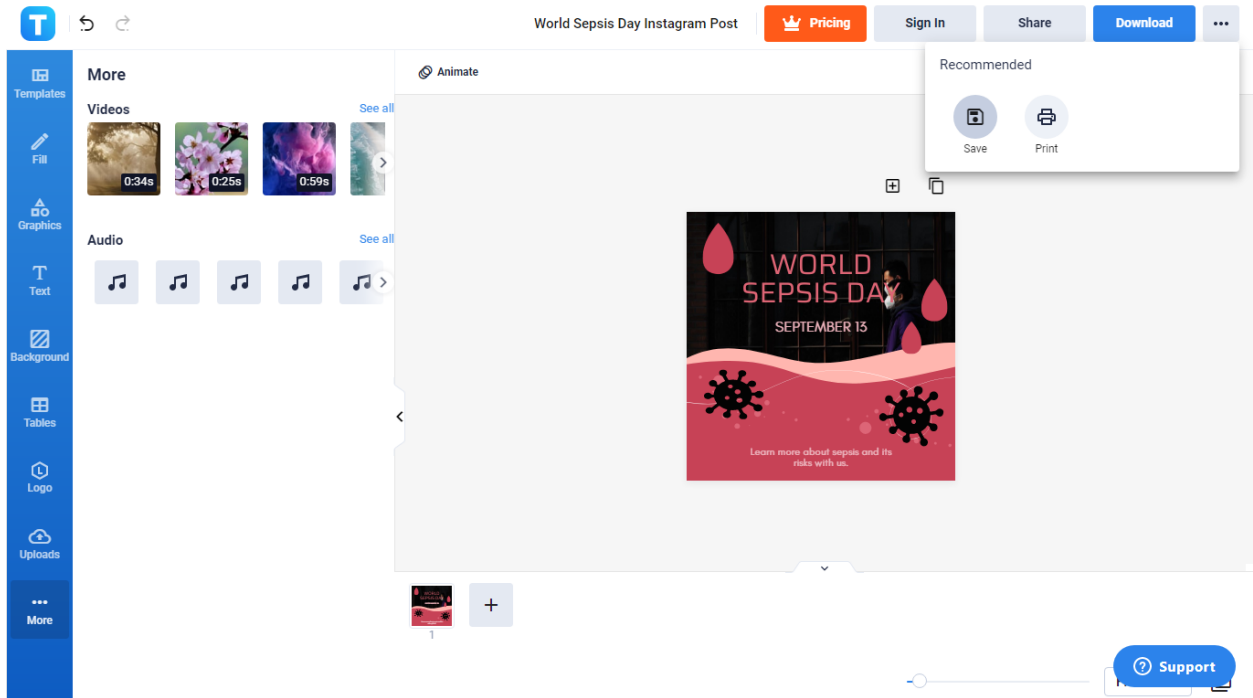

Are you finished editing? Save your work by clicking "..." on the upper right followed by "Save." Publish the template to your IG account and be sure to use the appropriate hashtags related to the event such as #WorldSepsisDay.

WhatsApp

1. Use a premade World Sepsis Day WhatsApp post template.
Check out all World Sepsis Day templates available on Template.net. Next, click on your preferred World Sepsis Day WhatsApp post template. Tap "Edit This Template FREE" to head to the Editor tool briefly.

2. Manage your template's texts.

Move to the left side of your screen until you see the "Fill" button. Click it and type any message inside the text boxes. You may write about the spots and effects of sepsis such as abdominal pain, failure of organ function, post sepsis syndrome (PSS), and other acute signs.

3. Input the best graphics possible for your post.
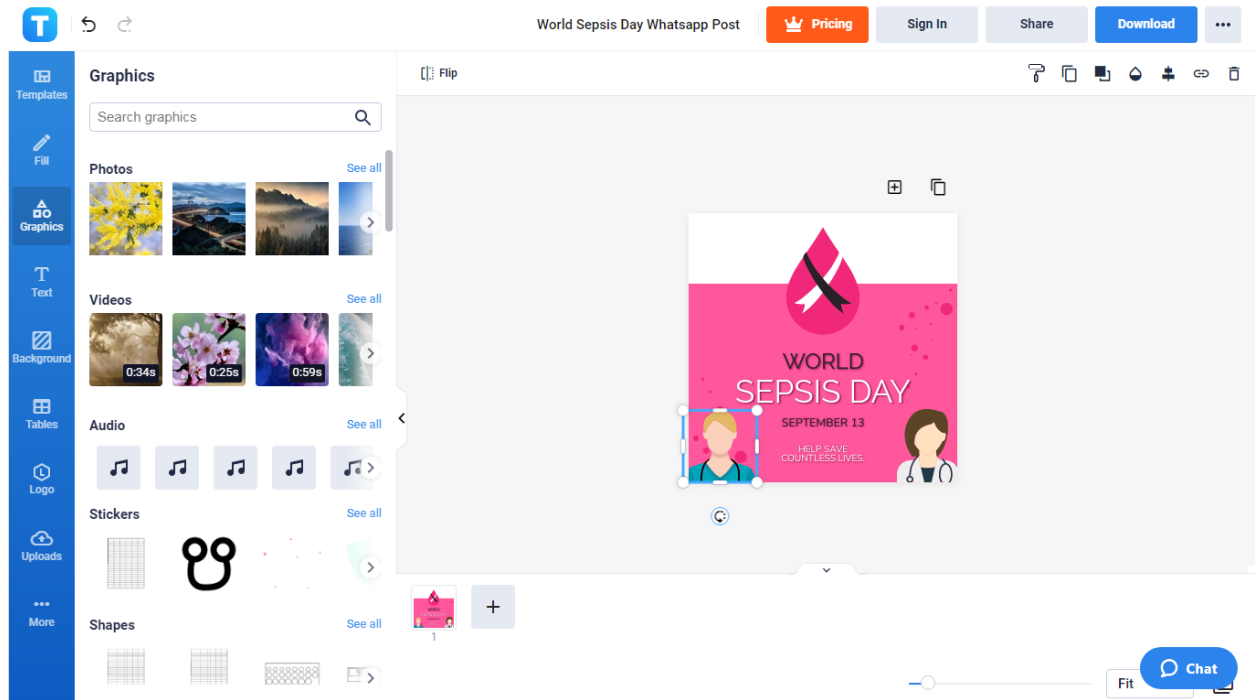

Pictures surely paint a million interpretations. So maximize the Editor tool's "Graphics" button to place any image you like. These pictures embellish your WhatsApp post template so be creative as much as possible.

4. Edit the wallpaper of your WhatsApp post.
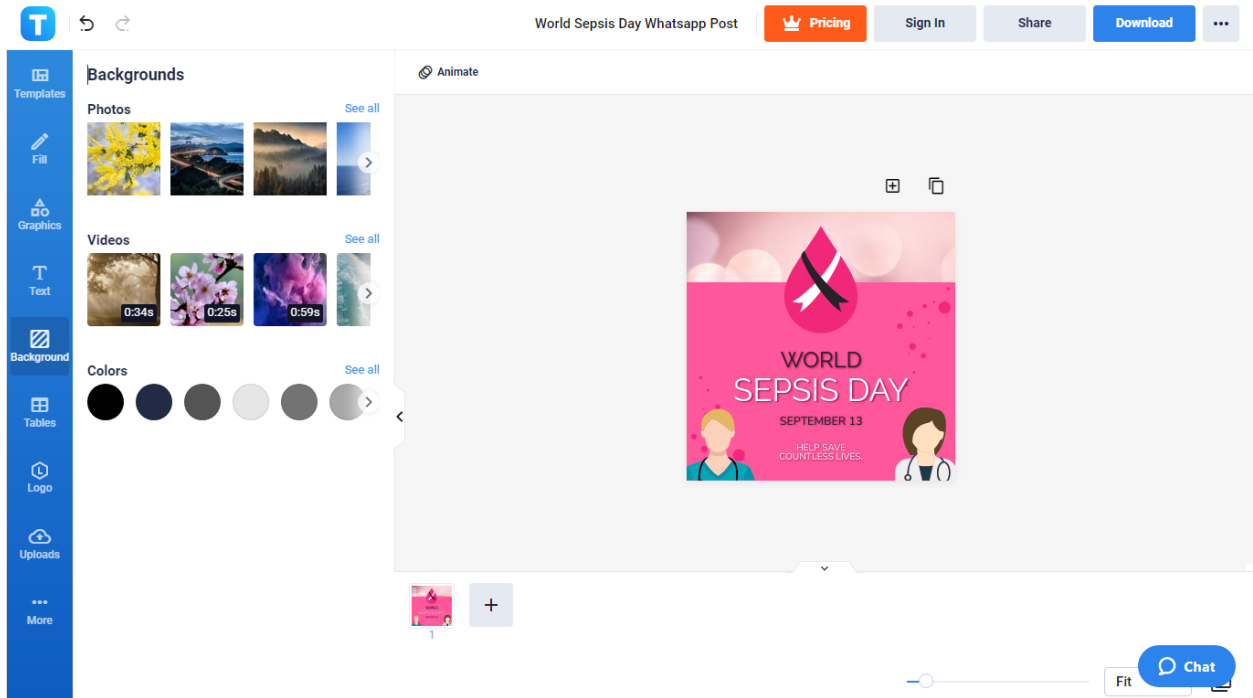

Another opportunity for your to improve your creativity is by altering the background. Select "Background" from the menu and you may pick a new backdrop color for the post. Also, you may simply pick a photo as the wallpaper.

5. Preserve your work shortly.
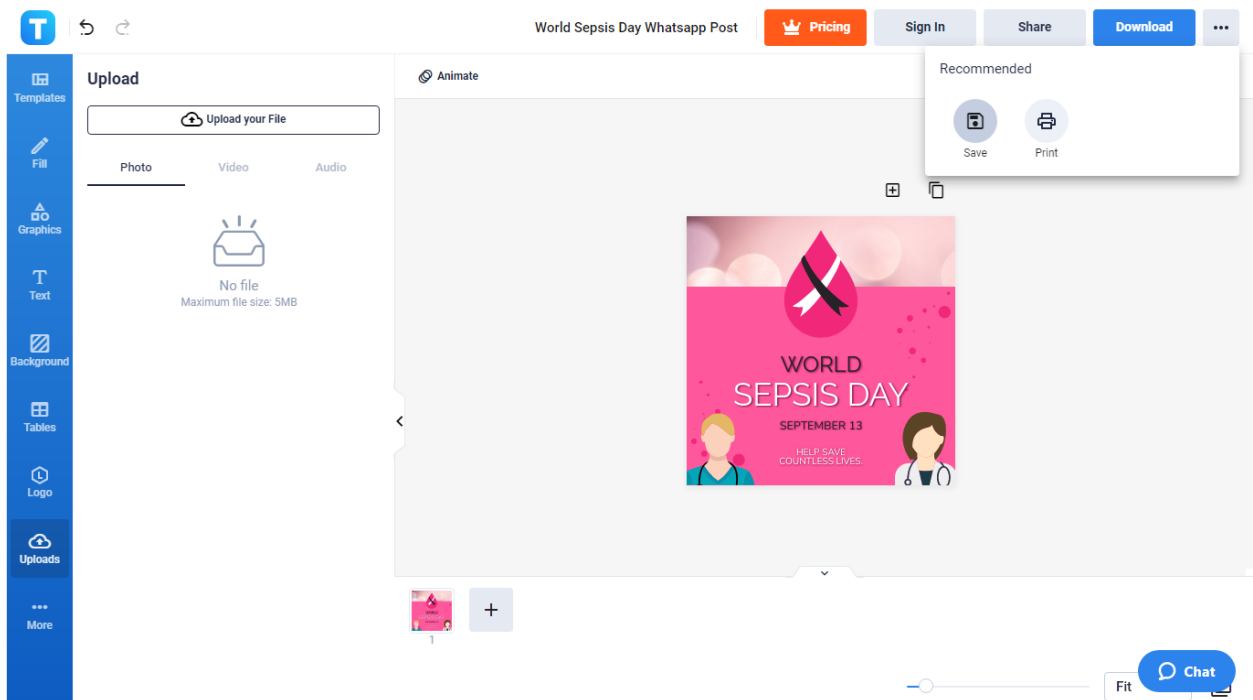

Add the finishing touches to your work and don't forget to save it. To do that, just press the three-dotted icon on the top right of your screen. Finally, hit "Save" and publish your work on your WhatsApp account.

World Sepsis Day vs. World Tourism Day

World Sepsis Day happens every 13th of September and this holiday spreads awareness about fighting sepsis and making sure the world is educated about the infection.

World Tourism Day occurs every 27th of September, and it aims to bring awareness about the purpose and impact of tourism around the globe.

World Sepsis Day Ideas and Examples

Celebrating World Sepsis Day isn't a one-dimensional event; in fact, it is an international event after all. There are plenty of creative ideas and examples to spread awareness and enjoy the activities prepared for this holiday at the same time.

World Sepsis Day Banner Ideas and Examples

Spread awareness with a large-sized and attention-grabbing World Sepsis Day banner template which you can easily produce in print or online.
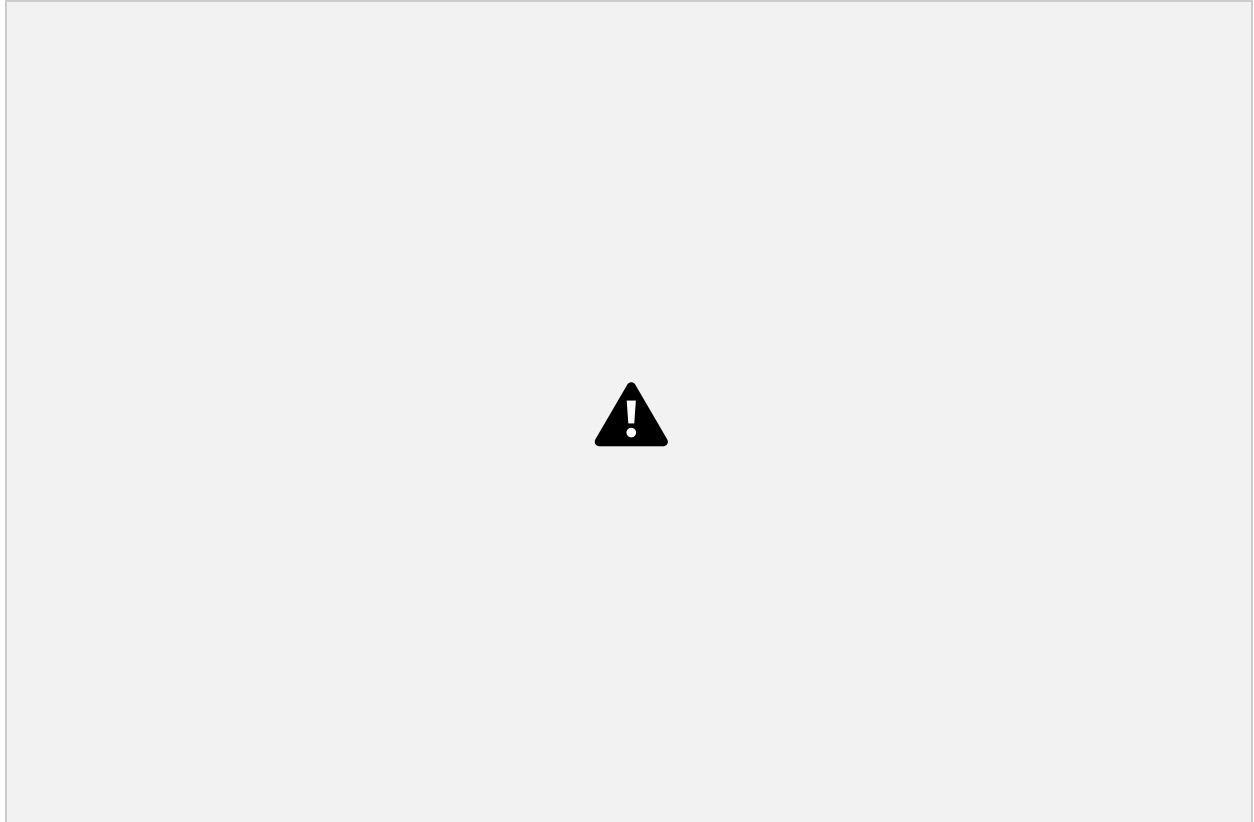

World Sepsis Day Background Ideas and Examples

Leverage a World Sepsis Day background template that you can use as your wallpaper in virtual sessions, social media images, and other promotional tools.

World Sepsis Day Vector Ideas and Examples

Stellar vector graphics are certainly in and you may use a World Sepsis Day vector template to commemorate the holiday as well as share it with your family, friends, etc.

World Sepsis Day Illustration Ideas and Examples

Optimize an easy-to-use World Sepsis Day illustration template that you can use to celebrate the upcoming holiday with a unique sense of style and impressive creativity.
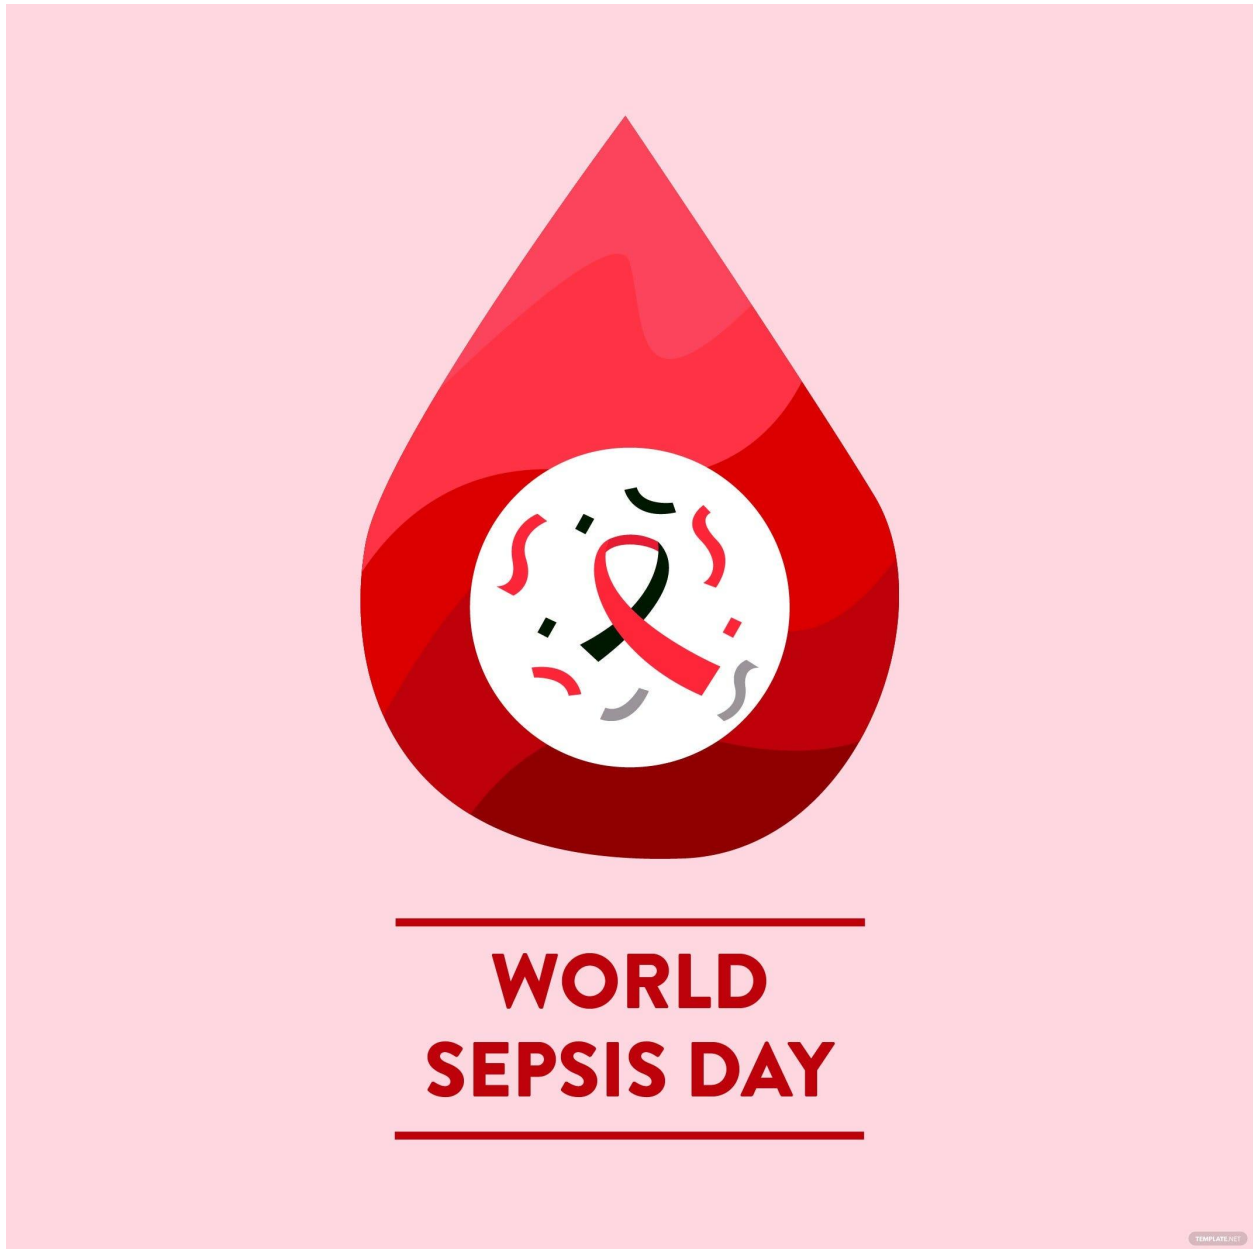

World Sepsis Day Website Banner Ideas and Examples

Personalize your website with a striking banner that matches the theme of World Sepsis Day using a premade World Sepsis Day website banner template.

World Sepsis Day Cartoon Vector Ideas and Examples

Fun cartoon characters keep your World Sepsis Day greetings more lively and animated, and you can use a World Sepsis Day cartoon vector template to get started.
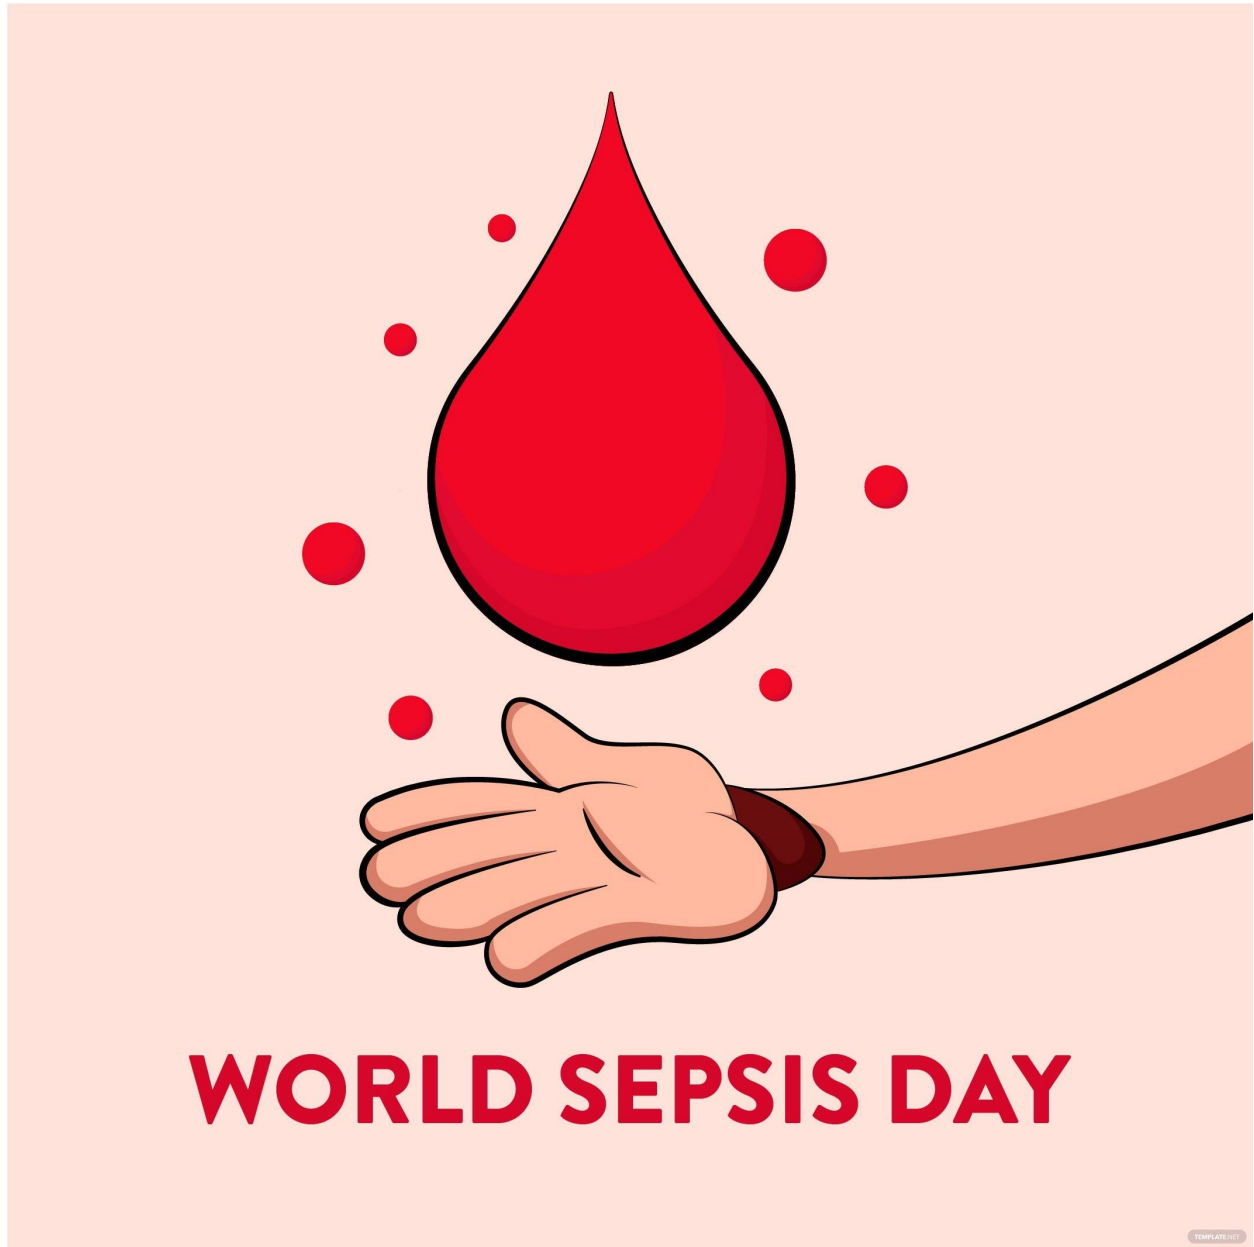

World Sepsis Day Invitation Background Ideas and Examples

Invite your guests to a fun World Sepsis Day-themed party by using a World Sepsis Day invitation background template for the design.

World Sepsis Day Photo Background Ideas and Examples

Impress the public with a number of photos in a creative layout once you customize a World Sepsis Day photo background template for reference.
World Sepsis Day Drawing Vector Ideas and Examples

Create a hand-drawn visual aesthetic when you optimize a World Sepsis Day drawing vector template in black and white.
World Sepsis Day Vector Background Ideas and Examples

Produce an elaborate and eye-catching design to commemorate the holiday by personalizing a World Sepsis Day vector background template.

FAQs

Why is World Sepsis Day celebrated?

World Sepsis Day encourages people to be more watchful about sepsis and to prevent this type of infection in growing rampant worldwide.

What month is Sepsis Awareness Month?

Sepsis Awareness Month is observed every September.

When did World Sepsis Day start?

World Sepsis Day started way back in 2012, thanks to the Global Sepsis Alliance.

What is the main cause of sepsis?

The top causes of sepsis are bacterial and viral infections including influenza, COVID-19, and fungal infections.

What activities can be done on World Sepsis Day?

You may observe World Sepsis Day by hosting pink picnics, attending sepsis education and seminars, spreading awareness on social media using #WorldSepsisDay, and donating to the World Sepsis Day organization.

What is the significance of World Sepsis Day?

It tells us to work together in spreading awareness and fighting sepsis for better health.

Where is sepsis most common in the world?

Sepsis is a big issue in countries with low to middle income, particularly among babies, pregnant women, and people with low resources.

Is there a ribbon for sepsis?

Yes, and sepsis's ribbon is in red and black colors.

What is sepsis awareness?

Sepsis awareness happens every September which informs people to know the possible symptoms of sepsis and how to spot it.

What is the symbol of World Sepsis Day?

World Sepsis Day is symbolized in pink picnics and other pink-themed social events.

Who is at risk of sepsis?

These are babies, pregnant women, individuals with low resources, people with weak immune systems, and those with chronic medical conditions.

What is Sepsis Trust?

Sepsis Trust or UKST is a UK-based nonprofit organization that aims to eliminate sepsis.

How many cases of sepsis per year?

They say 11 million cases of sepsis happen every year and according to Sepsis Trust, someone dies of sepsis every three seconds around the world.

What is the death rate for sepsis?

The mortality rate of sepsis is around 25–50%.