

Winter

Winter is one of the four seasons of the year, and as we all know, it's the coldest season. For many, winter is the most special season because of its association with Christmas, New Year, and other Yuletide celebrations; while others, especially children, enjoy the winter season because they love to play with snow.

Winter Definition & Meaning

Winter is the coldest season of the year and it's a season filled with highly anticipated events and celebrations such as Christmas.

Winter is the last season of the year and has the lowest temperature; it starts at the end of fall (autumn) and is followed by the spring season.

When Is Winter?

Every year, the winter season starts either on Dec 21 or 22; sometimes it starts on Dec 20. In the year 2022, winter is slated to start in the Northern Hemisphere on December 21 which is a Wednesday.

Winter History

Winter has been a yearly season ever since the prehistoric ages, way before the human species was born. It brings cold weather and forces wildlife and people to adapt to the changes it brings to the environment. In modern times, the winter season is highly regarded by people as a joyous season. It's a season when we celebrate Christmas and New Year.

Winter Purpose, Importance

The winter season arrives yearly, and it doesn't only bring cold weather and change the landscape of nature temporarily, but it also brings about plenty of celebrations, events, and gatherings.

Help the Environment

Winter brings a lot of inconvenience to people. Roads are quite slippery, visibility is low, and the temperature outdoors is uncomfortably cold, especially if you won't wear warm clothing—this makes going to school or work difficult for everyone. Despite the inconvenience, winter helps the environment in a lot of ways. For one, some plants need low temperatures and reduced daytime to become dormant which enables them to accumulate energy for sustainable growth. And also, there are fewer bugs during the winter since they can't survive severe cold; that means fewer mosquitoes carrying diseases. In general, winter is a part of nature and it has an important role to play.

Celebrate the Winter Holidays

The winter season has a lot of holidays. Among those are Three Kings Day, Hannukah, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Boxing Day, New Year's Eve, and New Year's Day. All of those holidays are full of joy, feasting, and family bonding. There's no school and work so people can spend time with family and friends. The holidays are what makes winter the most special season for most people because it's a season of happiness despite the coldness of the weather.

Enjoy the Snow

The snow that winter brings changes the scenery of the streets, forest, mountains, parks, and the outdoors in general. Everything outside is mostly covered in white and it's a beautiful sight to see. During winter, many people will be out and about to enjoy the snow, build snowmen, make snow angels, and have snowball fights. They'll be wearing their best winter fashion warm clothes such as coats and snow boots. Others will have cabin vacations to take in the relaxing view of snow-covered trees in the woods.

What's in Winter?

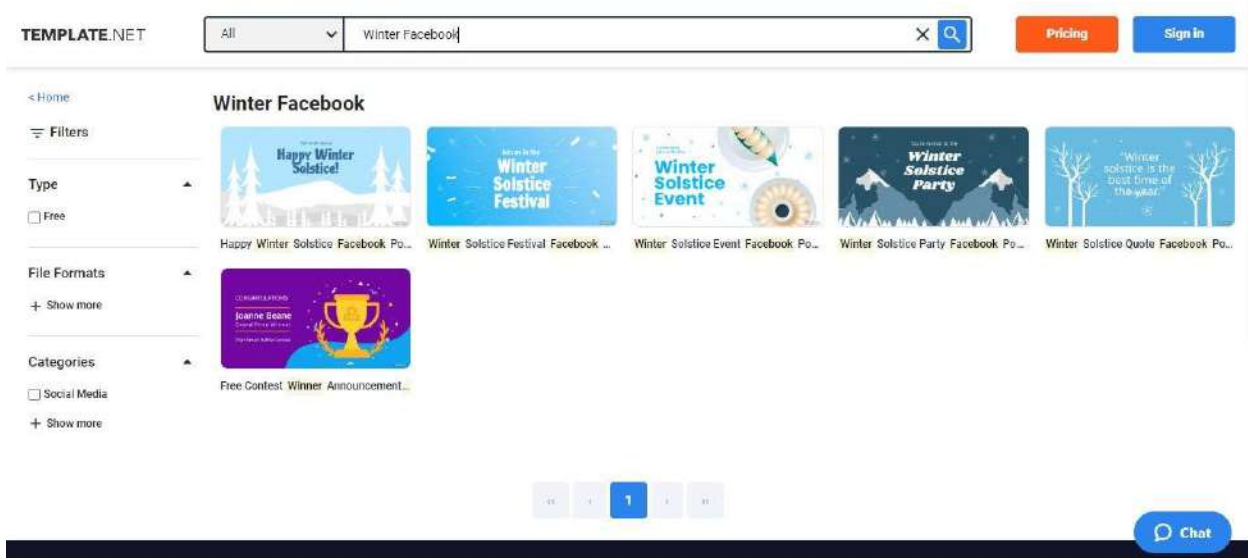

During the winter season, people will be preparing for the holidays to come, especially Christmas and New Year. They'll be wearing warm outfits throughout the season and their living rooms' fireplaces will be lit every night. Others will be going out to enjoy their favorite activity in the snow—go skiing, ice skating, sledding, or snowball fighting.

How to Create a Winter Social Media Post

Winter is almost upon us. We should be prepared for it and we should also be excited about it. Each of us can express our enthusiasm for the coming winter season by creating and sharing winter social media posts.

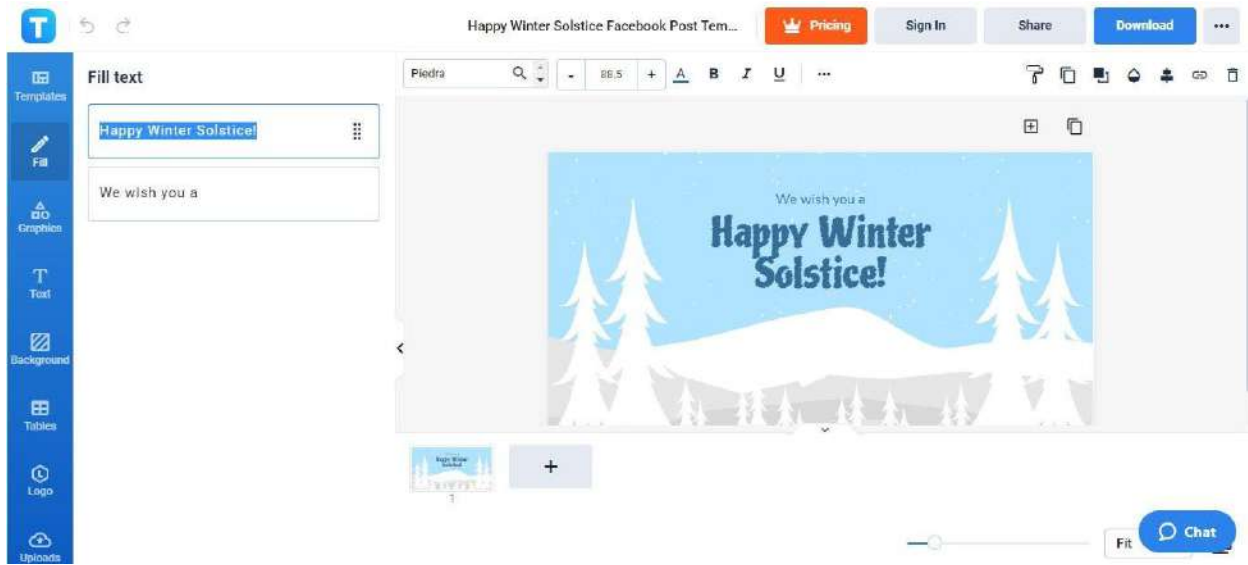

Facebook

1. Select a Winter Facebook template.

Choose from any of our editable Winter Facebook templates. Each has a unique winter theme that you can further beautify in the Editor tool. We have the Happy Winter Solstice Facebook Post, Winter Solstice Event Facebook Post, Winter Solstice Quote Facebook Post, and more. Visit the product page of your chosen template and click the “Edit This Template FREE” button to start the customization.

2. Write your winter greetings.

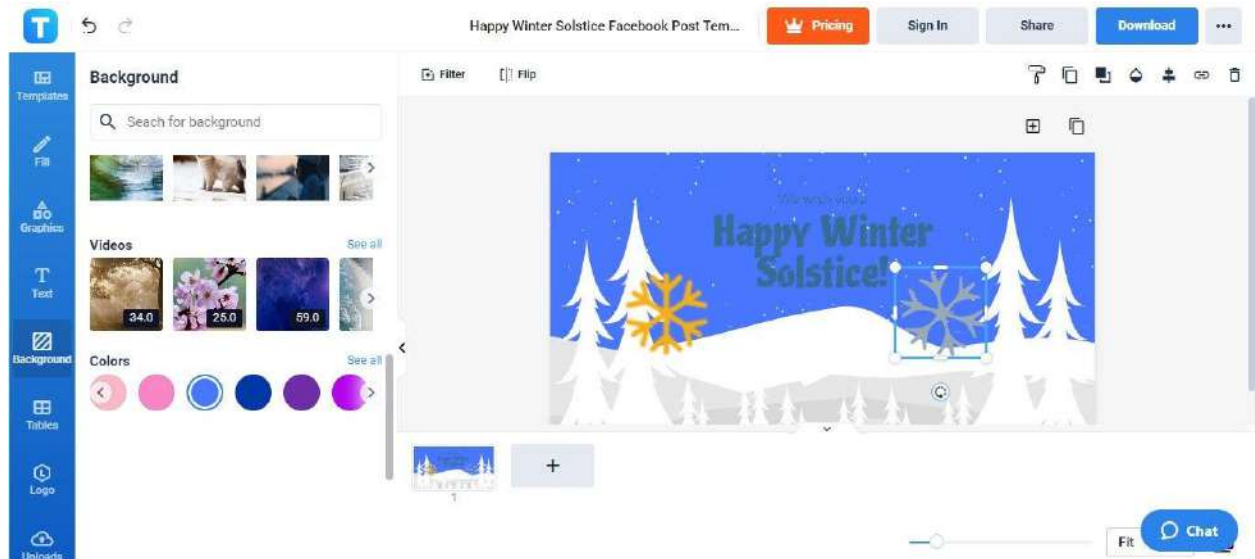

Your winter greeting is the heart of the winter Facebook post. To write it on the template, open the Fill tab of the Editor tool and customize the content of the Fill Text boxes. You can write something like “Happy Winter” or “Wishing Everyone a Prosperous Winter Season!” It’s alright if your greeting is short as long as it evokes positive vibes.

3. Insert snow or winter clip art.

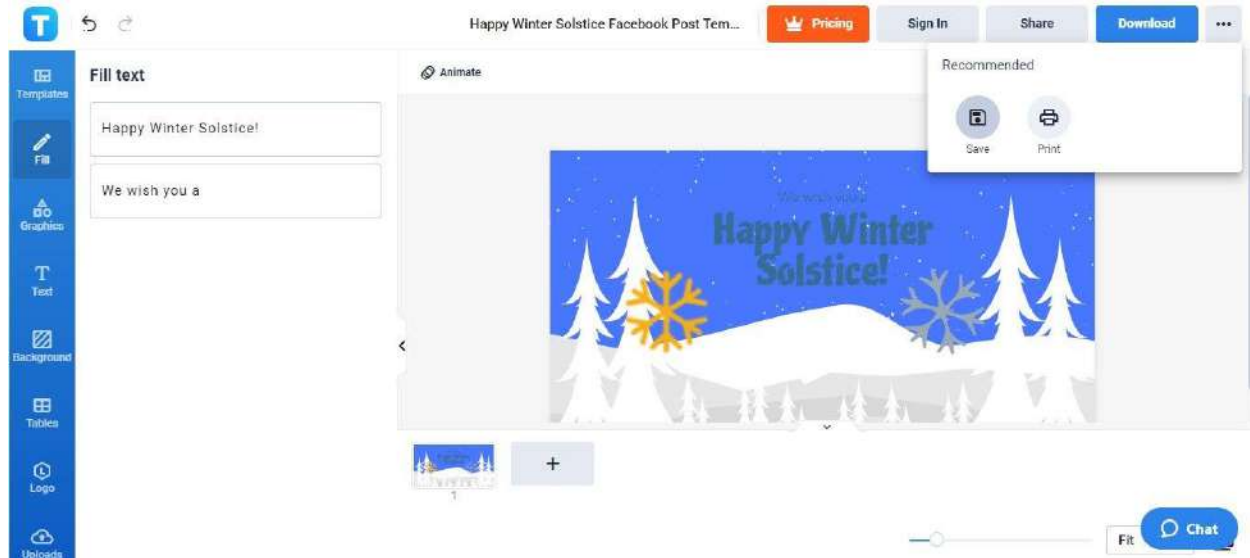

Feel free to further enhance the aesthetics of the template by inserting snow or winter clip art. Where to find them? Go to the Graphics tab of the Editor tool and type “snow” or “winter” in the search box. Select any clip art you want and drag and drop it into the template. You can insert more than one. There is clip art of snowflakes and trees covered in snow.

4. Try other background colors.

You can try using other background colors for the Facebook post. To set it up a custom background color, open the Background tab and click a color in the Colors section. Make sure to choose a color that highlights the text and the art in the template.

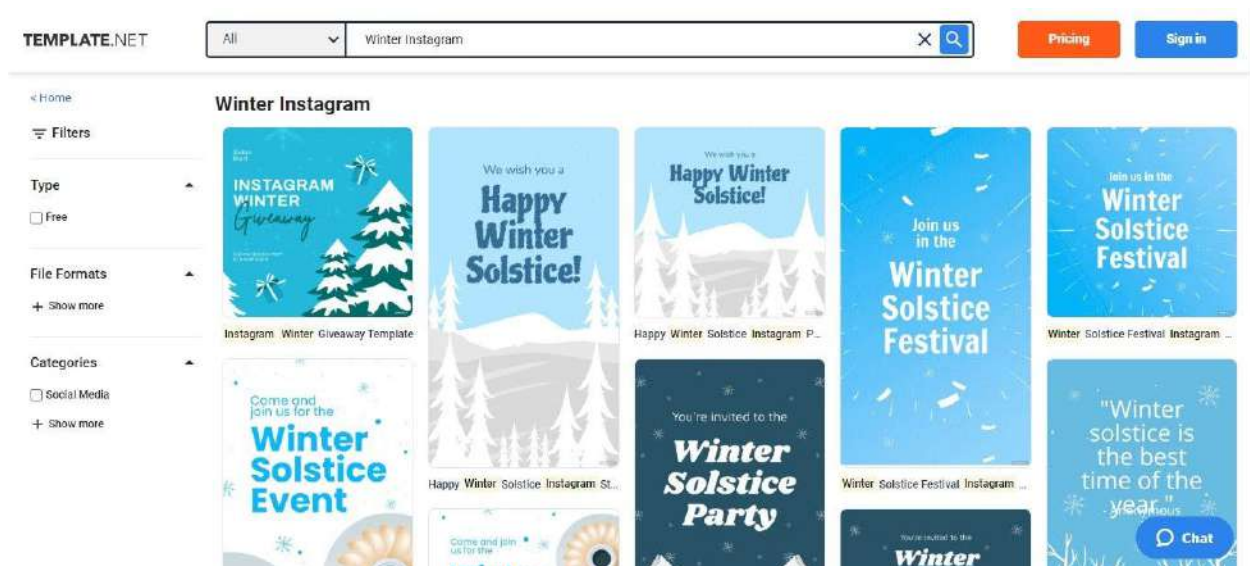

5. Save the customized winter Facebook post template.

When you're finished customizing the winter post template, make sure to save a copy of it. Click the button in the upper right corner of the Editor page and click Save. You may upload it to Facebook when the winter season arrives.

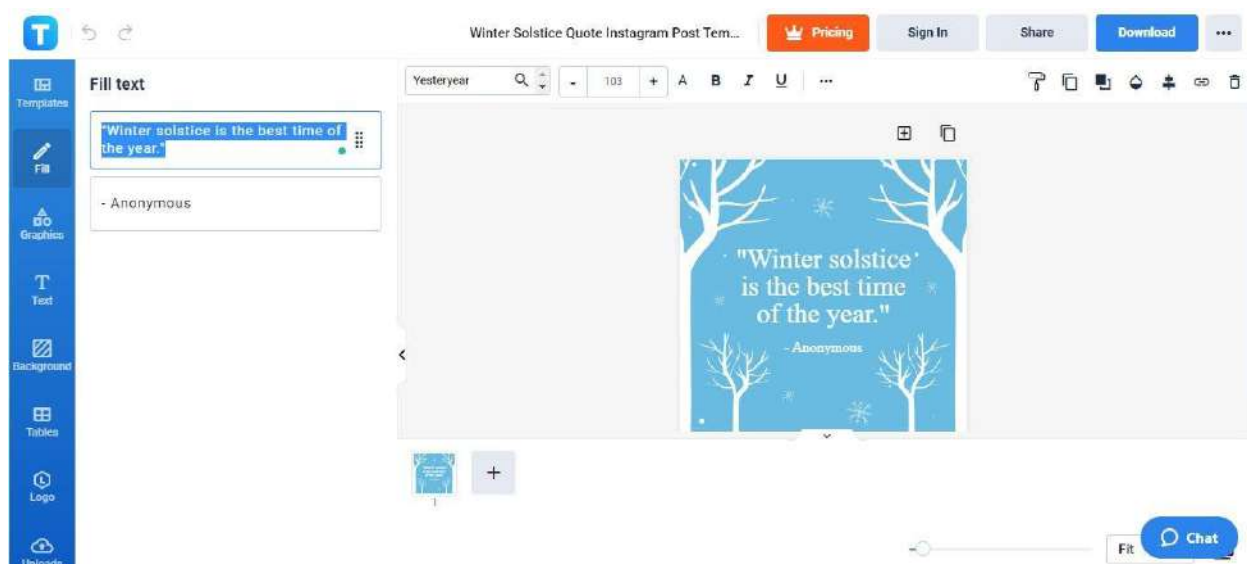

Instagram

1. Choose any of the available Winter Instagram templates.

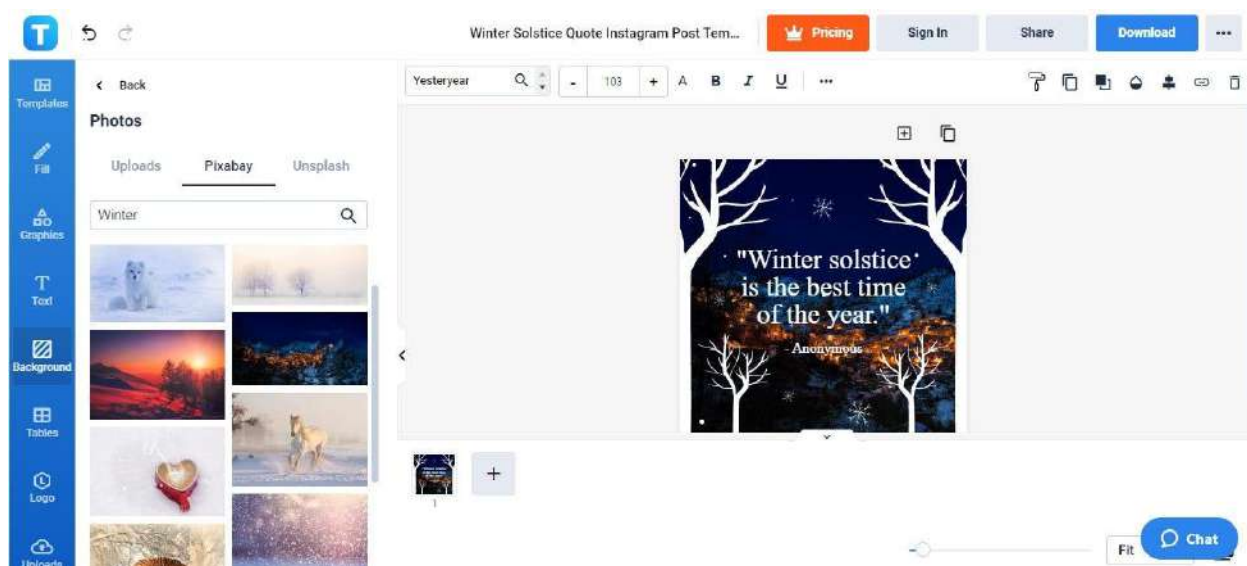

We have plenty of Winter Instagram templates for you. You can take our Winter Solstice Quote Instagram Post, Winter Solstice Party Instagram Post, Winter Solstice Event Instagram Post, and more. Start customizing your selected template by opening it in the Editor tool.

2. Type your winter season message or quote.

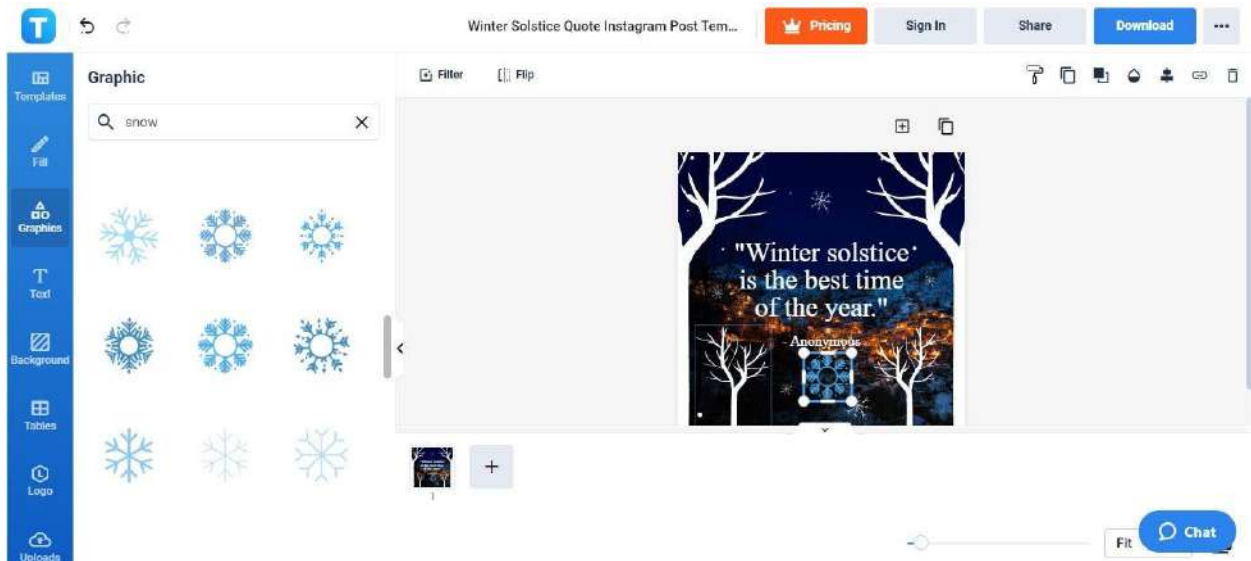

Your winter season message or quote can go a long way in inspiring your Instagram followers. To add it to the template, open the Fill tab and write it in the first Fill Text box. Just limit it to one sentence only. You can write your name as the author of the message or quote in the second Fill Text box, or you can keep the "Anonymous" text if you want.

3. Use winter pictures as background.

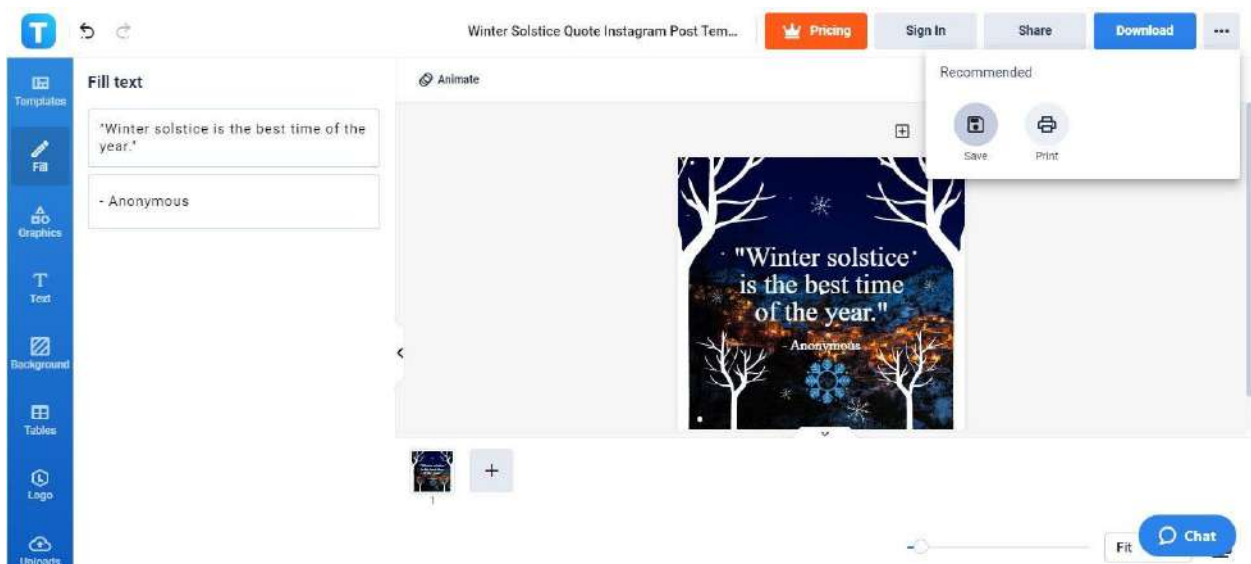

Winter pictures are undoubtedly Instagrammable. That said, you should use such pictures as the background of your winter Instagram post. To find Winter pictures, open the Background tab, scroll down to the Photos section, select “See All,” and type “winter” in the search box below Unsplash or Pixabay. To set up a winter picture as the background, simply click it.

4. Add more snow digital drawings.

Digital drawings of snow are available in the Graphics tab and you can add them to the template. In the Graphics tab, type “snow” in the search box to find the snow digital drawings. Drag and drop the drawing you want into the template; adjust its size and move it to a particular spot as needed.

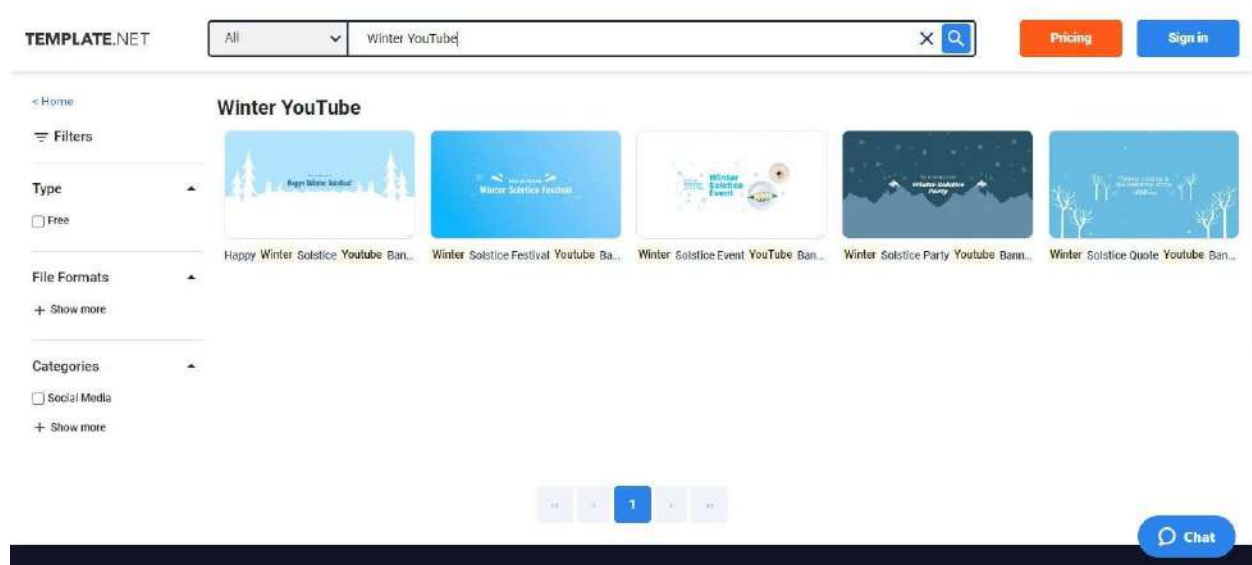

5. Save your personalized winter Instagram post.

Before you leave the Editor tool, click Save to secure a copy of your personalized winter Instagram post. Keep it in your folders for now and upload it to Instagram once the winter season begins.

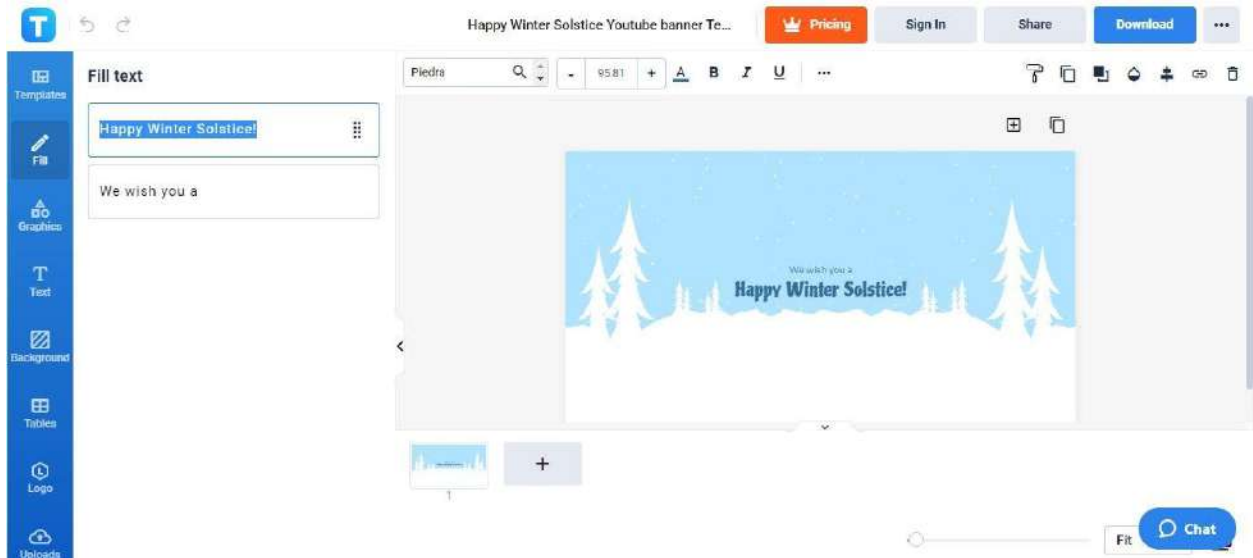

YouTube Banner

1. Grab a Winter YouTube template.

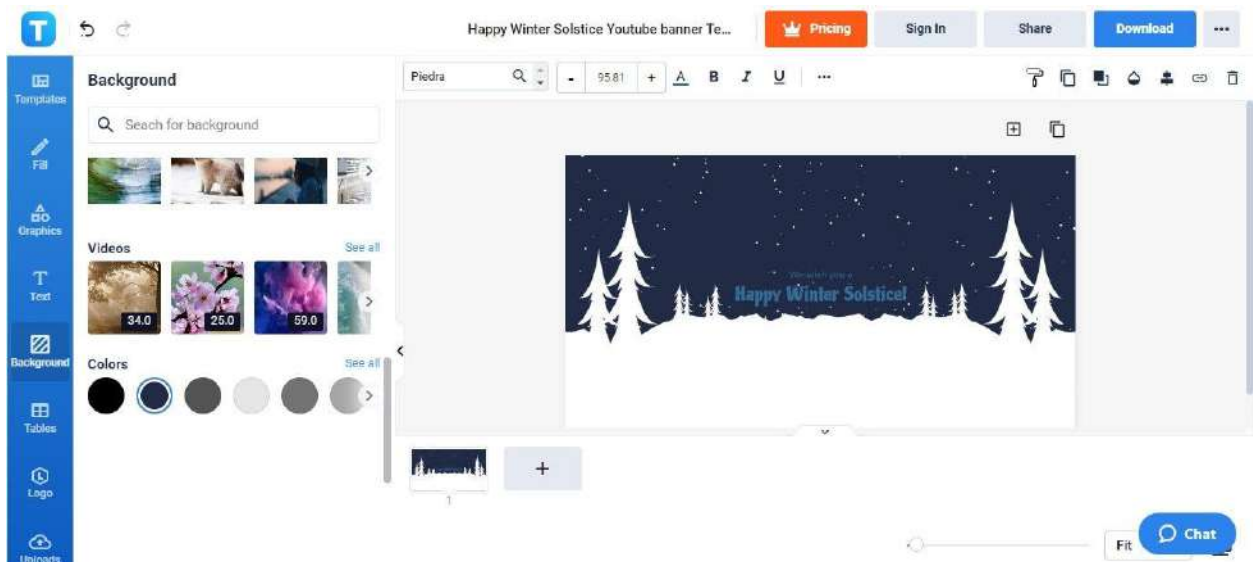

If you have a YouTube channel with a decent number of subscribers, make it in-theme with the coming winter season by setting up a Winter YouTube banner. We have plenty of those such as our Happy Winter Solstice YouTube Banner, Winter Solstice Quote YouTube Banner, and more. Choose from any of them and add your personal touch to your selected template in the Editor tool.

2. Write your greeting wishing people a happy winter season.

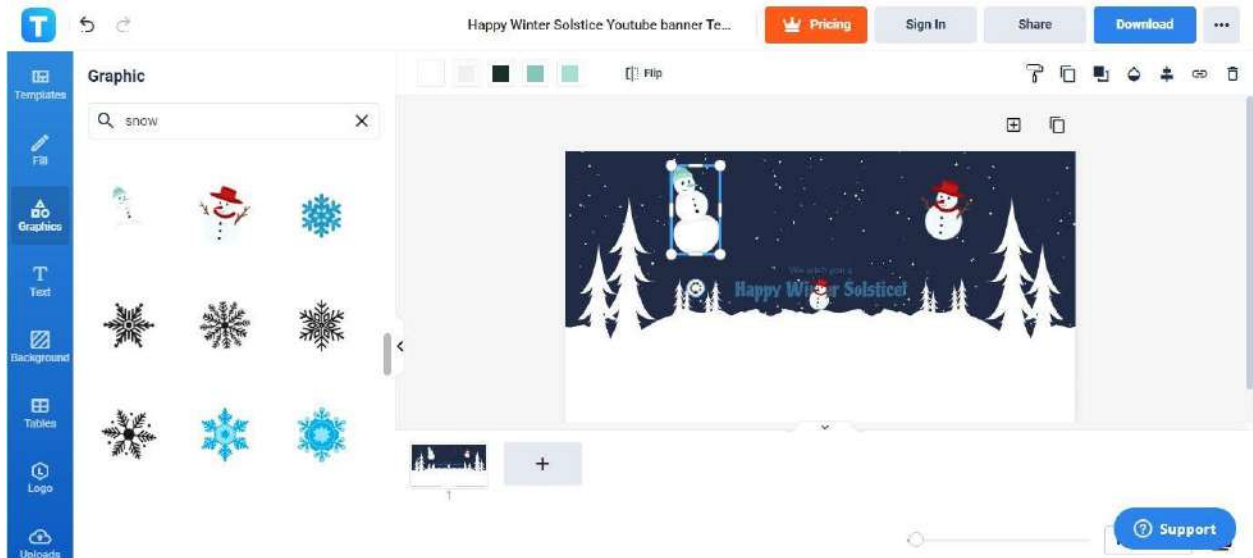

Your winter YouTube banner must feature a greeting wishing your subscribers a joyous winter season. Write your greeting in the Fill Text boxes in the Editor tool's Fill tab. It'll show up in the center of the YouTube banner template. Once it's written, you can try setting up a custom font style for it. Font styles are available in the toolbar.

3. Personalize the color of the background.

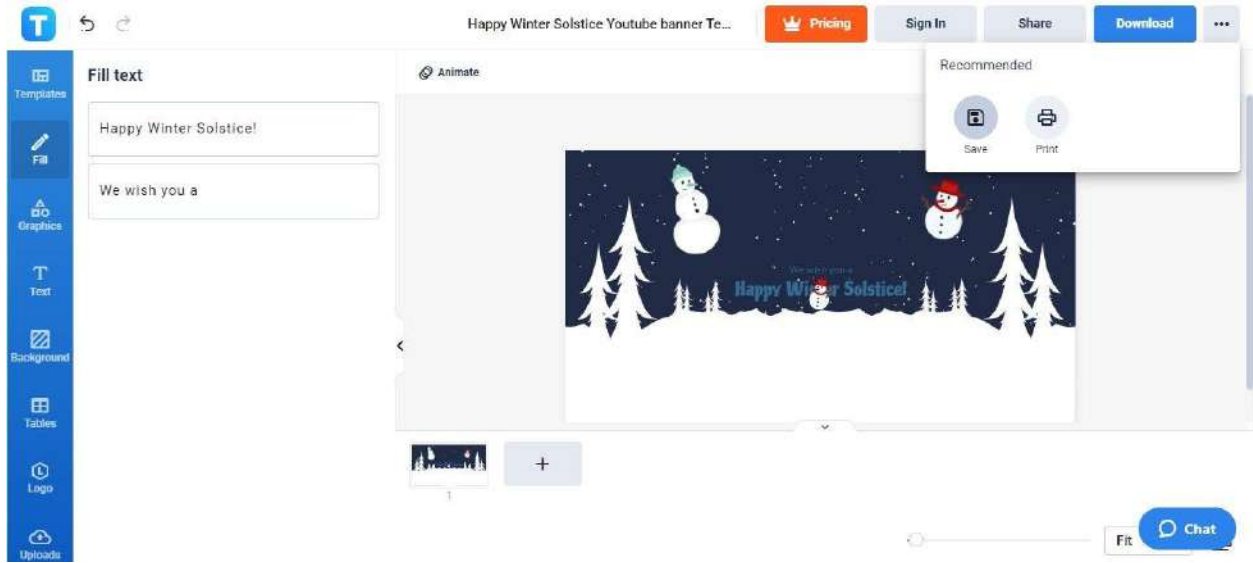

Feel free to personalize the background color of the YouTube banner template. You can use a light color or a dark color; it's up to you. Open the Background tab and choose any of the background color choices available in the Colors section.

4. Drag and drop additional snow graphics.

You can drag and drop more snow graphics to the YouTube banner template and arrange them like a collage. Type “snow” in the search box of the Graphics tab to find these winter-themed digital drawings. Once inserted in the template, you can resize and reposition them however you want.

5. Save your edited winter YouTube banner.

Click the Save button when you’re done customizing the template. This allows you to secure a copy of your custom winter YouTube banner so you can set it up in your channel once the winter season starts.

Winter vs. Summer

Winter is the coldest season of the year and it usually starts on the 20th, 21st, or 22nd of December.

Summer is the hottest season of the year and prompts early sunrise and late sunsets—making daytime longer than in any other season.
